Dedication . . .

Brother Ferdinand Pfeuffer, S. M.

We have tried to make this yearbook an expression of the Spirit of Chaminade. It is with true pleasure, therefore, that we dedicate the 1959 CARDINAL to a Brother of Mary who, both by his long association with Chaminade and by sixty years of religious life--crowned this year with a Diamond Jubilee--has become himself a most clear example of that spirit.

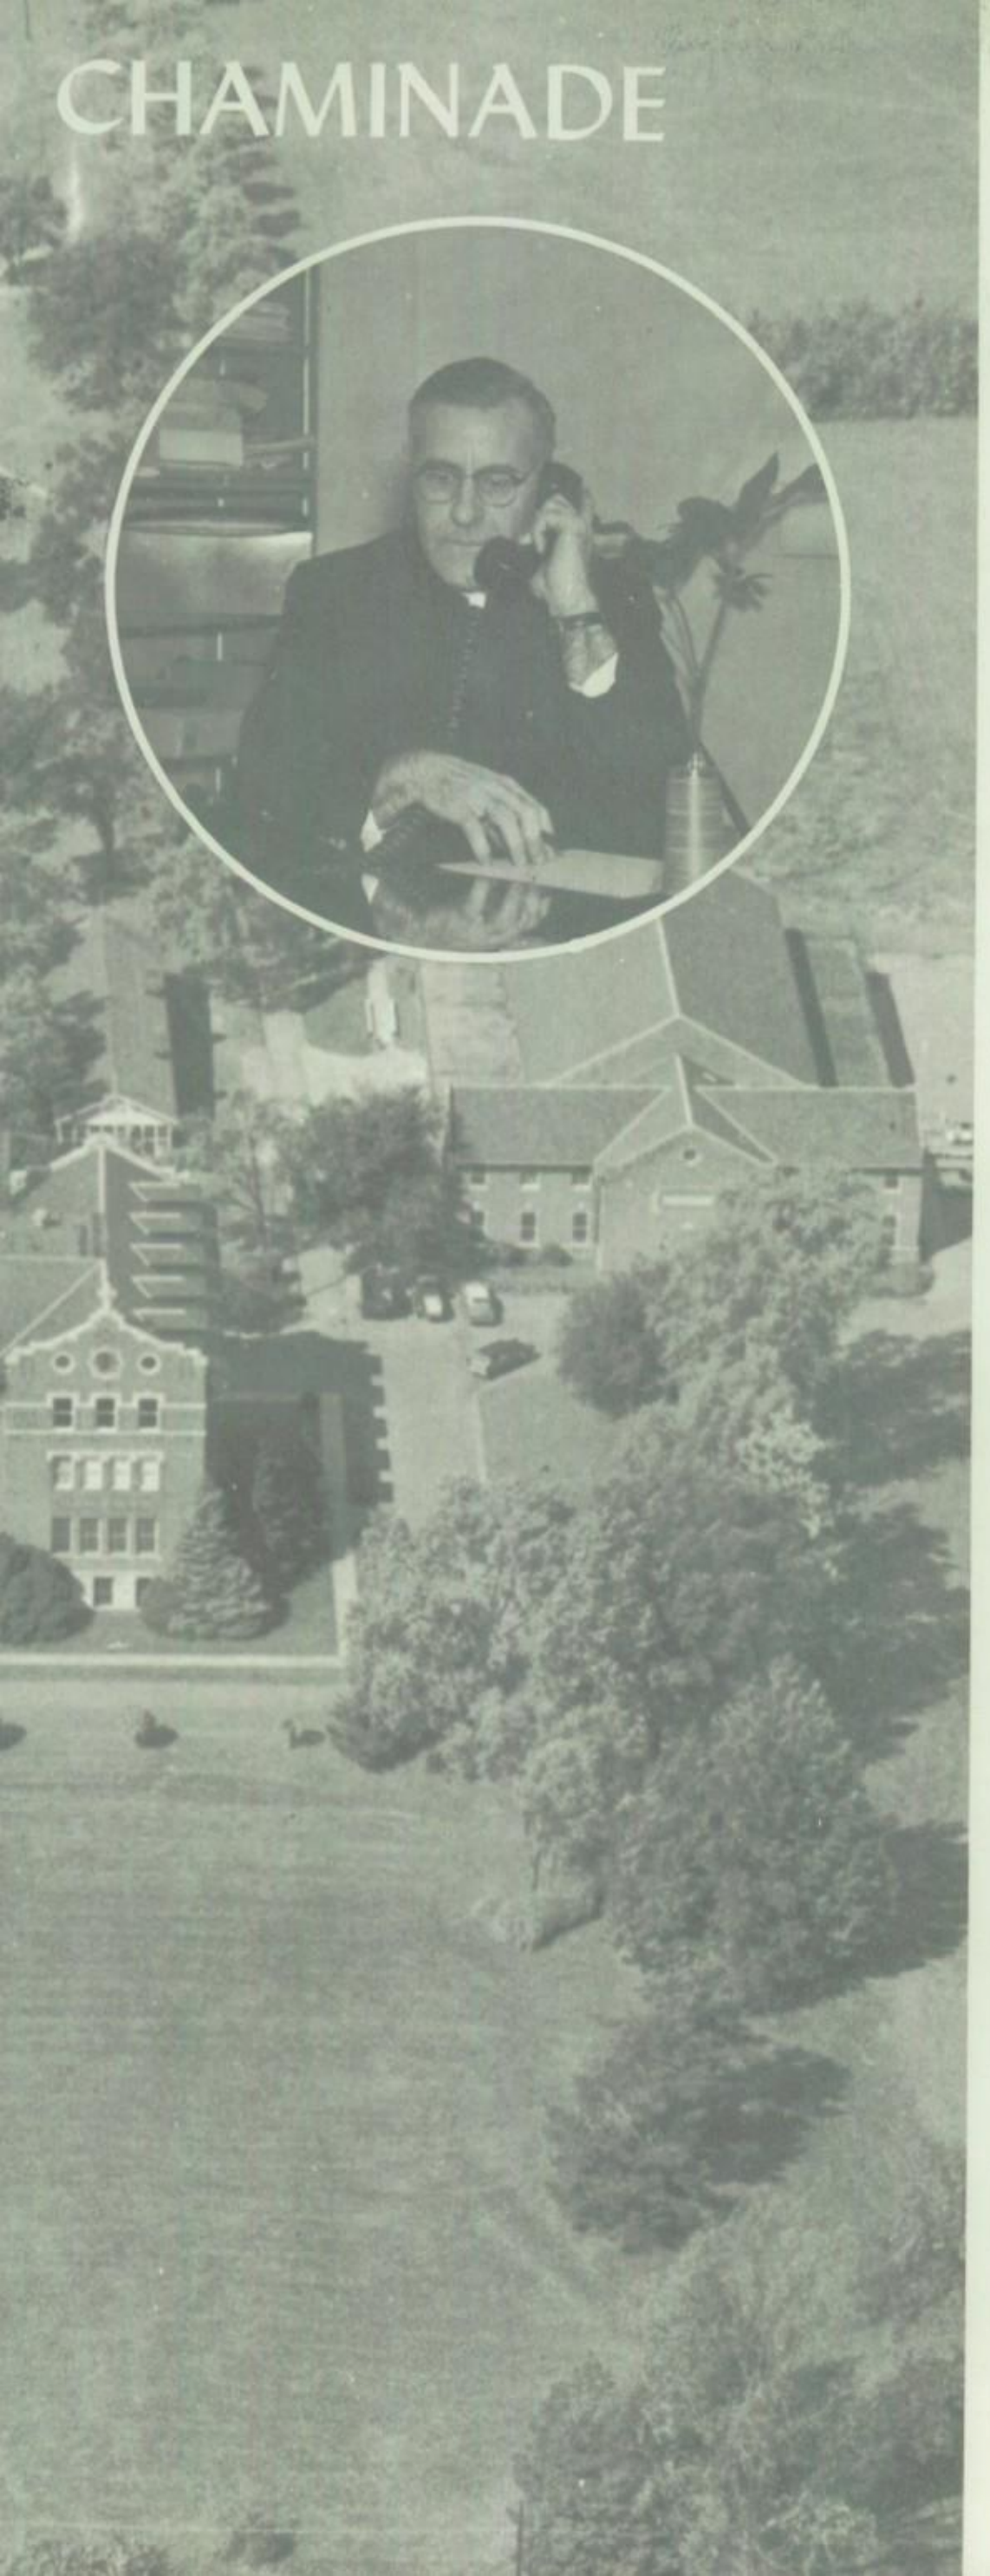
THIS IS

CHAMINADE



A school's yearbook is in many ways like its students. Both are formed in the school; both gather into themselves the many influences which the school exerts and blend them into a distinctive whole. And, most important, both attain their end, fulfill their primary purpose, not while they are in the school, but after they have left it.

For a yearbook is not made to stand on the shelves of the school library; it, too, must go out into the world to do its work, and yearbooks, like graduates, travel far.

But how is the yearbook to perform its task -- the task of representing the school? To do this it must portray the school's soul, its distinctive personality -- in short, its spirit.

And how can one discover the spirit of a school? The best way, of course, is to visit the school. Hence, our first purpose has been to make this 1959 CARDINAL a "visit to Chaminade."

But there is another way to identify spirit. Sometimes a well-chosen symbol can gather together all the various aspects of a school. This also we have tried to do. On the first page of the CARDINAL, and among the pages devoted to our senior class, we have placed such a symbol -- a 1959 Chaminade coat-of-arms. The background of this coat-of-arms is an interlocked double-C monogram. Our varsity lettermen act as standard-bearers, wearing the double-C outwardly; all Chaminade men wear it in spirit. It represents Chaminade College, and the ideals which it holds and proclaims. In breadth this includes all the elements which compose Chaminade today -- its faculty and students; its work and play; its natural and supernatural life. In depth it includes all the men who have been part of Chaminade in the past fifty years. And it does not stop even there. The heritage of Chaminade includes all the generations of Marianists back to Father Chaminade himself, and extends through him to the Blessed Virgin Mary, who, over a hundred and fifty years ago, inspired him to begin the undertaking of which this school, bearing his name, is one of the many fruits.

At this point the distant beginnings of Chaminade, and its animating spirit in the present, blend into one; for at the center of both we find Mary. We have expressed this truth by placing in the foreground of our coat-of-arms a representation of the Immaculate Conception, designed after the small, hand-carved statue which stands in the principal's office.

Yes, Mary is central in the life of Chaminade today. Indeed, our teachers consider themselves successful only to the extent that they are her instruments, helping her form Christ in us. And Chaminade's students have come to share this Marian orientation. They have come to realize, as have Christians through the centuries, that manhood is most manly when it is dedicated to this Woman.

The 1959 CARDINAL, then, has tried to embody the spirit of Chaminade; both through a comprehensive view of its life, and through a symbolic blending of two objects -- one from the heart of the school; one from the hearts of its students -- a blending expressive of the unique blend of thought and action, of present and past, of natural and supernatural, that makes Chaminade what it is. We of the staff are proud to have had this task, for this is a school to be proud of; this is a school worth telling about . . . this is Chaminade.

May 1, 1959

My dear seniors,

I have looked forward, for the past four years, to your annual not only because it is an excellent work of art, but also because it affords me one final, parting message to you. And parting messages have this value: they are weighty with meaning, for into them we try to cram all that must be said.

But, really, "all that must be said" has been repeated often these four years by your teachers. I only want to focus your attention on those oft-repeated principles -- principles involving loyalty to your Church, service to your country, devotion to your family, and fidelity to your school; all, in a word, that is summed up in the motto, "Esto Vir."

Your annual beautifully symbolizes these realities by surrounding the Mother of God with the double-C. For Mary has always been the center of Chaminade, as she must always be the heart of your life. And the heart, you know, is the seat of love. Your love, then, for your Church and your country, for your family and your school will always be more intense because of your love for Mary. This is the prime lesson Chaminade has taught you.

When your annual suggests, therefore, as its second theme -- "A Visit To Chaminade" -- it is reminding you to return, physically at times as alumni, to your Alma Mater; it is reminding you to return, spiritually at other times, to the principles learned at your Alma Mater. Your "visits to Chaminade," through your yearbook, will be your reliving life at Chaminade by the daily application in the world of affairs of Chaminade's principles.

It is in this sense that I am proud to address you as alumni and to advise you to live up to your motto, "Esto Vir."

Mary keep you always,

Louis J. Blume, S.M.

CHAMINADE COLLEGE — CLAYTON, MISSOURI

CHAMINADE COLLEGE — FRIDAY, SEPTEMBER 12, 1958 — NUMBER 1

CHAMINADE FACULTY AUGMENTED

Additions to the faculty at Chaminade this year include eight new members.

Father John Gorman, S.M., comes to Chaminade after six years in the Marianist Seminary. Father will serve as chaplain, do guidance work and teach junior and freshman subjects.

Brother Louis Meinhardt is not new to Chaminade, having formerly served as prefect, treasurer, eighth grade teacher and grade school principal. He has returned to Chaminade as athletic director and moderator of the Fathers' Club. Brother Louis also teaches typing and bookkeeping.

Brother Daniel Rabitt is a newcomer to Chaminade. He taught last year in San Antonio, Texas. Brother Rabitt is presently serving as treasurer.

Brother John Kurz came to us from Victoria, Texas, where he served as principal of St. Joseph's High School. Brother Kurz teaches American problems and sociology, and is in charge of the book store.

Returning to Chaminade after a stay at St. Michael's, Chicago, is Brother John Haug. Brother was here from 1948 to 1952, when he served as second division prefect and as head coach. This year Brother is teaching religion, directing physical education, and coaching B-team basketball.

Brother David Wolk comes to us from Victoria, Texas, to aid the third division as prefect. Before his present assignment Brother was band director for four years.

Bro. Charles Labus returns from Peru to teach the fifth grade at Chaminade.

In charge of maintenance this year is Bro. Emil Pawelek, formerly of St. Mary's University, San Antonio, Texas.

Speakers Active

The Chaminade speech team has a year filled with hard work ahead of it, since it has lost many valuable veterans of last year. Brother Frank Klapp, head of the speech department, hopes to match last year's enviable record. Brother Klapp will be assisted in this task by Brothers Joseph Rasky and John Simon, who will serve as coaches.

The team will rely heavily upon Robert Hellrung, last year's first place winner in C.I.S.L. oratory, and upon last year's freshman and sophomore debaters who captured first place in the St. Louis University High School tournament—Jim Klebba, Bob Leggat, Michael Morris, and Jerry Walsh.

As in previous years, Chaminade will again contend in C.I.S.L. Debate and in General Speech. As last year, Chaminade's speech team will be host for their own debate tournament later on in the year.

All the students who will participate in the speech activities this year have assured us that their efforts will help maintain the precedent set in the previous year.

Editorial

by Michael Adrian

On the opening day of school, Brother Robert Ernst mentioned what School Spirit is. School Spirit is hard work at your studies during the whole year. Many people think that School Spirit is just yelling at sporting events and sticking up for Chaminade in arguments.

We must remember that we were sent to Chaminade to get an education; this is our main purpose. It is our duty in our present state in life to go to school and to be a good student—not only in conduct but also in studies. We must remember in conscience that we are bound to increase our knowledge.

One might ask, however, "Does this mean that I must keep my grades at an average of 99% or above?" By no means. But it does mean that each and every student should work to his own capacity. God gave us each a certain amount of talent and it is up to each one of us to use these God-given talents toward our own supernatural happiness.

All the men at Chaminade should be very proud of the fact they have such a splendid opportunity to acquire a good Catholic education. All of us will be thankful for this the rest of our lives.

When one gives serious thought to what he wants to be in later life, he will be thankful for the various helps that were given him in his high school education.

All of these various thoughts add up to a rich SCHOOL SPIRIT —the true SPIRIT OF CHAMINADE!

When we organize our high school curricular and extra-curricular activities into a smooth blend of these various ideas we can say proudly that we attend Chaminade, and that when we are backing our teams in various sports and cheering the Flyers on to victory, we can look back on our good grades and feel an inner glow of accomplishment . . . We can and will live up to the motto of our school . . . ESTO VIR!

Danny Schultes, Freshman Guest Editor

Wednesday morning, September 3, one frightened freshman, yours truly, entered the halls of Chaminade College Academy; my first day at high school, prepared to start in a brand new field of learning.

When I entered the building, I saw a large blonde-haired Brother looking very stern; at this point I felt like turning around and leaving by the same entrance I entered. Later I found him to be a very good teacher and a fine help in my first day in high school.

We were notified that we were to go to the gymnasium and so my first day at Chaminade started. After assembling in the gymnasium, we opened the assembly with a prayer led by one of the seniors, whom I found out later to be the president of the Student Council, Robert Hellrung. We were then introduced to Brother Robert Ernst and Father Louis Blume, both of whom gave welcoming addresses. Brother Ernst gave a talk about "school spirit" and striving to reach our goal in high school for God. Father Blume then gave us a wonderful speech. Father is the president of Chaminade and is the one who keeps everything running smoothly.

Brother Ernst then returned to the microphone and assigned us to our various homerooms. When we got to the classroom, we were given our schedule for the year—and then off to classes.

I am thankful most of all for the assembly that we had. This helped me to absorb some of the spirit of Chaminade. One could not pick a finer school than Chaminade to help not only in studies but also to develop a strong character and a pleasant personality.

Missouri Boys' State

by John R. Sanders

This year, from June 21 to June 28, I had the honor to attend the Missouri Boys' State. This year it was held on the campus of Central Missouri State College in Warrensburg.

Boys' State is a program set up by the American Legion for the purpose of instructing the youth of the country in the operations of our government. On this particular occasion it was the mythical fiftieth state in which everything is run by young men in their senior year in high school. A whole new government was set up on the basis of the Constitution of Missouri.

Upon arrival at Boys' State I was completely mystified. Imagine, if you will, six hundred boys lined up in single file to be signed in. This took place inside a small building, with rain pouring down outside; this was my first view of Boys' State.

Upon being assigned to the city of Crowder, I departed for my room. Upon entering I found that I had been assigned to the same room with eleven other guys. The next two days were spent in attending lectures on the various phases of the government,

That which makes the biggest impression on one's mind is the number of boys that one can meet in such a short period of time. Boys' State was a truly wonderful experience. I'm very grateful to Chaminade and the American Legion for sponsoring me. It is well for the juniors of the future to remember that they have the chance for such a swell opportunity. I hope the classes to come will continue to represent Chaminade and take advantage of the great chance to learn more about our government.

LLOYD KLINEDINST

MICHAEL TUETH

Two CC Grads Enter Religious Life

Two seniors of the class of 1958 have answered the call of God—one in devotion to Our Lady, the other to Christ. These two boys are Lloyd Klinedinst and Michael Tueth.

Lloyd entered the novitiate of the Society of Mary this summer at Galesville, Wisconsin. He will study for one year before taking his first vows. Then he will begin his college courses which will prepare him for his teaching life.

Michael Tueth entered the novitiate of the Society of Jesus, St. Stanislaus in Florissant, Missouri. Here he will study for two years before taking his first vows to become a Jesuit. After completion of this he will begin his college curriculum.

Both Lloyd and Mike were well known around Chaminade, and were very active in their senior year. Lloyd was president of the Student Council, editor of the CARDINAL, and Valedictorian of his class.

Mike was president of the senior sodality, editor of the CARDINAL and WHITE and Salutatorian of the Senior Class of 1958.

Lloyd and Mike are joining a large number of the Chaminade graduates now in the ranks of the priesthood and the religious life. Their example should be an inspiration, and their prayers will be a help to the Chaminade students of today.

CLUB ACTIVITIES

The first meeting of the Mothers' Club was held Tuesday, September 9. This meeting outlined plans for the mothers' holiday house tour, and new members became acquainted with the policies and the activities of the club.

New officers were introduced at this meeting. They included Mesdames Nolan, Dalton, Kerber, Murphy, McGowan, Vescovo and Krekeler. Included in the agenda was the introduction of the faculty members at Chaminade.

The Fathers' Club is planning its annual carnival for October 18. The Fathers plan to surpass the successful carnivals of past years and will certainly succeed with much cooperation and the usual output of hard work. This year's carnival has been planned to coincide with Homecoming Day. It is hoped that this will heighten the success of both events.

A recent audit of the Alumni books showed a total profit of two thousand dollars on last year's annual Horse Show. A large amount of this profit was accounted for by the ads placed in the Horse Show program.

Various activities for the Alumni are being planned this year. These will include a day of recollection toward the end of the year, and a dance which will be held late in the football season. When spring rolls around, another Horse Show is planned, the proceeds of which will be used toward the erection of an entrance to the school in 1960 for the Chaminade Jubilee.

Brothers' Conventions Here

The Science and Mathematics convention was split into two divisions. The math teachers convened and discussed new procedures in teaching and new type courses. Science teachers explained the changes to be made in teaching technique at Chaminade. Our own Bros. Meyer and Yasho were among the speakers at this convention.

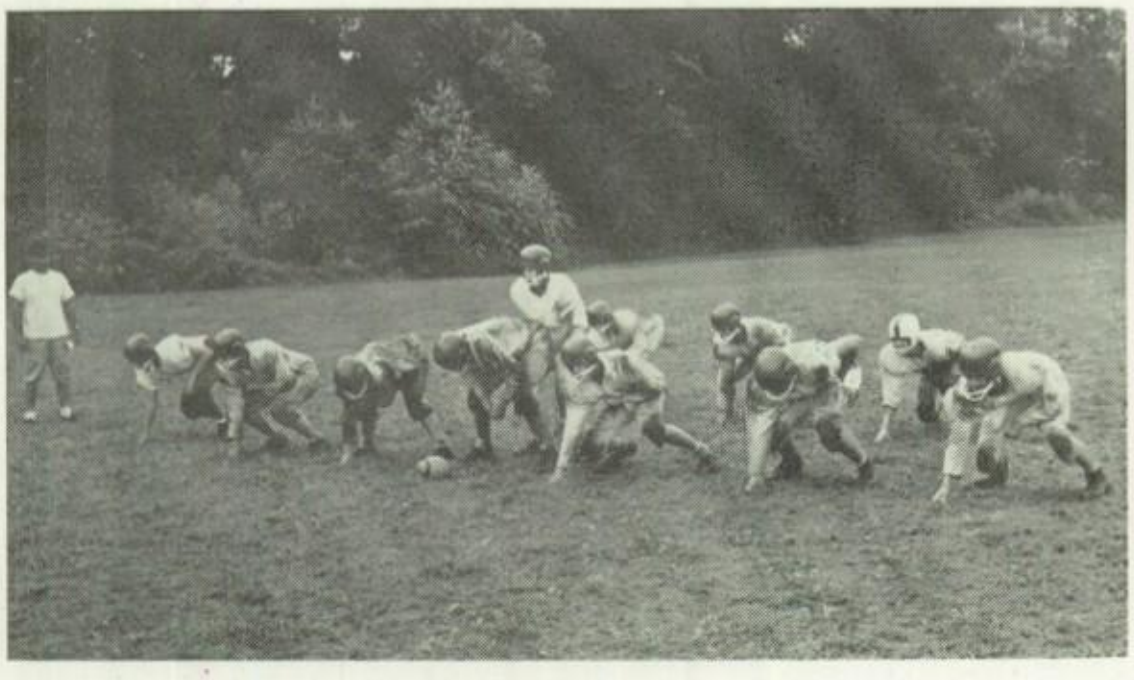
During the latter part of August two conventions were held at Chaminade by the Brothers of Mary of the St. Louis Province. The attendance at each convention was about 40 brothers.

The first to meet was a Sodality convention which lasted three days. This convention dealt with a review of last year's meetings and with plans for future meetings of the Sodalities in the Marianist schools.

Superior General To Visit Chaminade

The V. Rev. Paul Hoffer, S.M., Superior General of the Society of Mary, will visit Chaminade from October 6 to October 10. Father Hoffer is on a world tour from the governing headquarters in Rome, Italy. He will celebrate the Golden Jubilee Mass of the St. Louis Province in Our Lady of the Pillar Church on October 11.

FLYERS PRIMED FOR '58



Tomorrow the Chaminade Flyers will tackle the gridiron squad from Country Day School. This year's Flyer prospects are looking bright, with the backing of the returning veterans from last year's team.

The team has been working out hard since the seventeenth of August and is going to continue to labor to keep the '59 Flyers serious contenders in this year's football race.

Chaminade can be proud of its coaching staff, consisting of Mr. Henry Buffa, head coach, and Brother Raymond Davenport, assistant coach and the spark behind the line.

Mr. Buffa was asked for his comment on the prospects of this year's team. He said that the hard work that the Flyers have been putting forth will merit a fine year for the Chaminade men.

The probable starters will be: Jim Wehner at center, John Dempsey and Ralph Sebacher at guard positions, Doug Villars and Joe Murphy at the tackle slots. Skirting the line at the end positions we find Ken Kuhn and Bob Hellrung as possible starters. The crew leader of the team will be Bob Bitter at quarterback, and filling out the rest of the backfield we may find Francis "Goose" Sommer and Jim Korack at halfbacks, and Pete Knese at full.

Supporting the first string will be other key members of the squad, such as Jim Gill, G. F. Boehm, Richard Kuzmich, Frank Lynch, John Vatterott, Steve Hartenbach, and "Mighty" Jerry Murphy.

All the student body from the seniors down to the frosh must remember that it is also their duty to back their team with their spirit and consistent attendance at all the games! It is our duty as Chaminade Flyers to do our best to support our fellow students who will be representing Chaminade on the field this year.

BACK THE FLYERS ALL THE WAY AT EVERY GAME!

A change in the administration was made during the past summer when Brother Louis Meinhardt, S.M., replaced Brother Raymond Doorack as athletic director at Chaminade. Brother Meinhardt was previously stationed here in 1948. Our congratulations go to Brother Louis and we trust that he will do an excellent job.

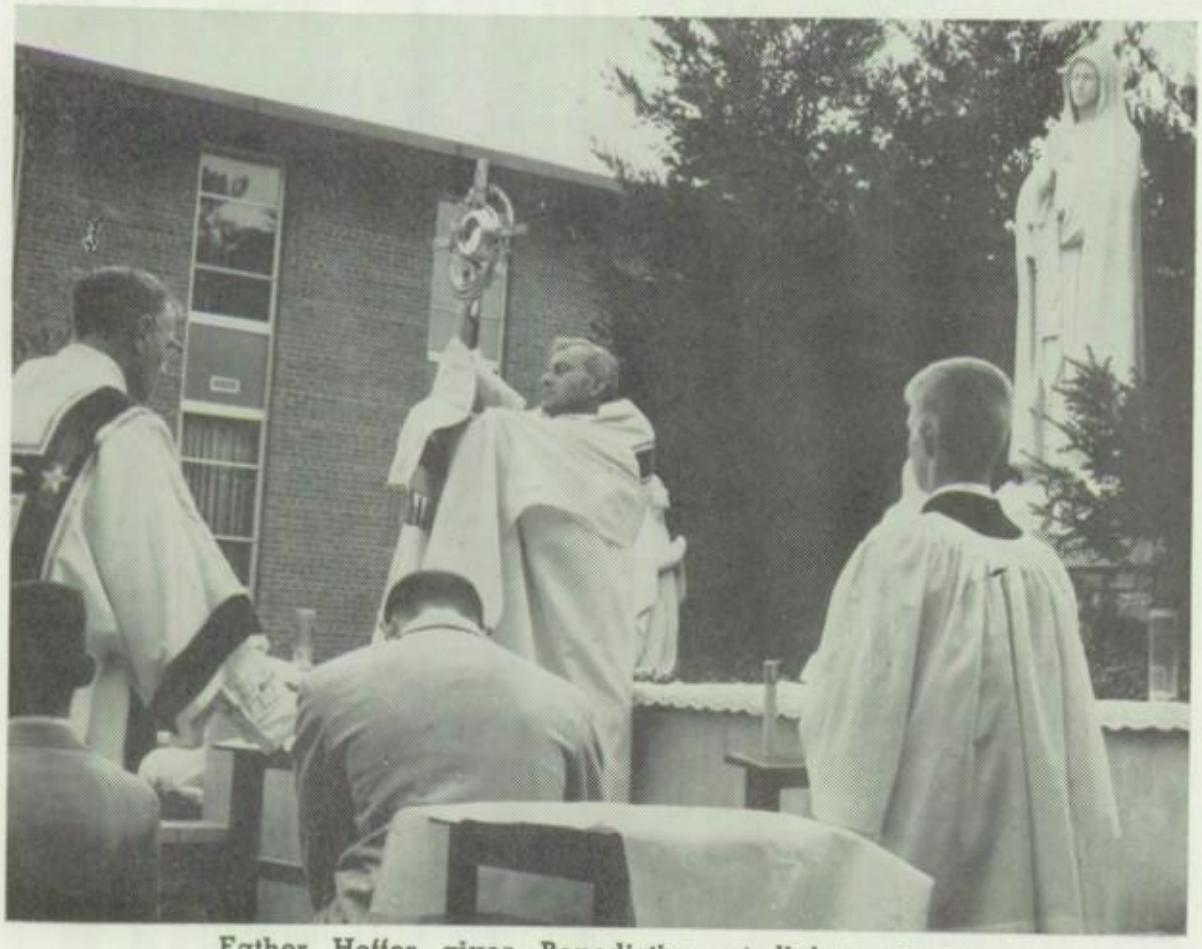
CHAMINADE COLLEGE | FRIDAY, NOVEMBER 7, 1958 | NUMBER 2

CHAMINADE ENTERTAINS SUPERIOR GENERAL



Father Hoffer gives Benediction at living rosary.

Father Paul Hoffer, S.M., arrived at Chaminade at 4 p.m., Monday afternoon, October 6. While the band played and banners flew, Father was enthusiastically greeted by the whole student body on the steps of the faculty residence.

On Tuesday, October 7, Father Hoffer presided at the living rosary conducted by the students in front of the Shrine of Our Lady. On Tuesday evening, in spite of threatening weather conditions, Father was warmly received by some 400 Chaminade students and their parents. Refreshments for the evening were furnished by the Mothers' Club.

It is interesting to note that this was not Father Hoffer's first visit to Chaminade. He visited us ten years ago when he was Assistant Superior General. In 1956 he succeeded Father Juergens as Superior General. Father Juergens now resides at Chaminade.

Father Hoffer's objective in coming to St. Louis was to help the St. Louis Province celebrate its 50 years as a separate province, and to make an inspection of the Society of Mary's activities. Father Hoffer helped the brothers solemnize the occasion by celebrating the Jubilee Mass at Our Lady of the Pillar on the following Saturday. Following the Mass and luncheon, he left Chaminade to visit other schools conducted by the Brothers of Mary.

Living Rosary

On the feast of the Most Holy Rosary, October 7, at 3:30 p.m., a living Rosary was held in front of the statue of Our Lady of Fatima.

The officers of the Student Council were the servers while the students acted as the beads

Special Activities Wednesday

Bro. Frank Klapp, S.M., was named president of the Catholic Interscholastic Speech League for the forthcoming 1958-59 speech season. Brother Frank succeeds Brother John Rollins, S.M., formerly of McBride High School. The CISL consists of most Catholic high schools in the St. Louis area, who compete in various phases of speech throughout the year.

Brother Klapp held this position once before during his past years as head of Chaminade's speech department. His duties will consist of arranging the speech meets at various schools, including Chaminade. Chaminade is proud to share this honor extended to one of its faculty.

Team Prepares

Auditioning exercises for Sophomores, Juniors and Seniors trying out for this year's Speech Team were held recently in the auditorium and speech room. In the past two weeks the members who will represent the 1958 speech team were chosen. These members will compete in a general speech meet to be held at Fontbonne College, November 8. This year Brother Frank Klapp will take charge of the original and non-original oratory, Brother John Simon, serious and humorous interpretation, and Brother John Rasky will head the radio and extemporaneous departments.

A special privilege was given to the Speech Club by His Excellency, Bishop Fulton J. Sheen. He sent an autographed portrait of himself to the club. Certainly the club is proud of this acknowledgement.

Sophomore Editorial

by David Halloran

Have you ever looked at the word sophomore very closely? If you have, you may have noticed that the word is made up of two words: the first, soph, means smart or wise, while the second, more, means stupid.

Let us look at the first part, meaning smart or wise. A sophomore is considered smart because he has had a year of high school or college, depending on the case. Having had this year, he has taken in the knowledge that was offered in that year. Also, he has become accustomed to the school and his teachers.

The sophomore has the obligation as a "wise" person to help people younger than he. He must also get into organizations that will help the school, the city, and, of course, the church. Also, he must give example to the other people in the school. He should become an integral part of the school, such that any teacher can depend on him and trust him at any job.

And Still More

The second part of the word, more, mean ignorant. As a sophomore is wise, so is he stupid in that he has three more years of school to complete and in those three years a great store of knowledge has yet to be obtained.

A sophomore has much left to learn in the three years following and he has many things which will in time interest him. The activities of a school have higher places for the older members of its ranks.

A student is learning for the life, after he gets out of school and has to earn a living and support a family. He has to learn to be pleasant around other people and get used to hard work.

A sophomore has to study hard to collect this knowledge and also has to work hard at homework and play hard at play to balance himself. If he gets into some extracurricular activity he has to work hard, but he enjoys it.

CHURCH HAS NEW POPE

The staff members of the Cardinal and White, in union with the faculty and student body of Chaminade, join the many thousands of people who mourn the passing of a great spiritual leader, Pope Pius XII.

The newly-elected successor to the Chair of St. Peter, Pope John XXIII, the former Cardinal Angelo Roncalli, will be crowned as the 262nd Vicar of Christ, inside St. Peter's Basilica in Rome. He will be the new Visible Head of the Universal Catholic Church.

Father Hoffer Addresses Students

On Oct. 10, Father Paul Hoffer, S.M., Superior-General of the Society of Mary, concluded his visit, on which he was accompanied by Bro. Bernard Schad, Inspector General, by a speech to the students.

Sodality Union Sponsors Contest

"Christian Christmas?"

At the suggestion of the Archdiocesan Union of High School Sodalities, Chaminade students took part in a slogan contest for the purpose of keeping the spirit of Christ in Christmas. It was during the week of September 29 through October 3 that all the high schools in the Archdiocese held this contest. At Chaminade it was organized by the head of the religion department, Father John Gorman, S.M., and carried out in the form of all religion teachers in the freshman, sophomore, junior and senior divisions giving it as part of one night's assignment. The homeroom teacher of each class then picked the three he thought best. All the homeroom teachers then assembled and chose from the picked slogans one winner from each division. Each divisional winner was awarded a statue of the Sacred Heart furnished by the sodality. The winners were as follows:

Senior: "Christmas Time Is Christ's Time"—Juan Perez.

Junior: "Think of Christmas, Think of Christ"—P. J. Nolan.

Sophomore: "Keep Christ As Your Reason for Celebrating the Season"—John Grady.

Freshman: "Make Your Christmas Christ-like"—Mark Russo.

The homerom teachers then again assembled and picked of the original three from each class five entries for the Archdiocesan competition. Bruce Bienvenue of Chamnade took second place in the Archdiocesan competition and won five dollars for himself with the slogan, "God's Greatest Gift, the Christ of Christmas." First place in the Archdiocesan competition was taken with the slogan, "Think Twice—Christmas, Christ."

Navy Sets December 13 For Annual NROTC Exam

Vice-Admiral H. P. Smith, Chief of Naval Personnel, announced today that the 13th annual national competitive examinations for the Regular Naval Reserve Officers Training Corps will be given to interested high school seniors and graduates on December 13. Application forms are now available and must be received before November 15, he added.

Designed to supplement the officer output of the Naval Academy, the NROTC program makes it possible for a young man to earn a regular commission while studying at the civilian college of his choice which has an NROTC unit. All tuition, fees and books are furnished by the Navy, and the student receives an annual retainer of $600 for four years. During the summers the student goes on fascinating training cruises as a midshipman. After completing the usual four year college course, he is commissioned in the regular Navy or Marine Corps and goes on active duty as a prospective career officers with the Navy's far-flung fleets. For those who apply and qualify, immediate assignment to flight training will open new careers in naval aviation.

High school seniors and graduates between the ages of 17 and 21 may apply for the NROTC aptitude test. Those who make a qualifying score will be given a rigid physical exam early in 1959. From the pool of qualified young men remaining in competition, approximately 1800 will be selected to begin their naval careers next September.

The NROTC college training program is also open to enlisted men on active duty with the Navy and Marines. Separate quotas are established for applicants from within these services.

Application forms are available at all high schools, colleges, Navy Recruiting Stations or from the Chief of Naval Personnel, Washington 25, D. C.

BROTHERS CELEBRATE JUBILEE

Fr. Hoffer addresses golden jubilee banquet held in Chaminade gym.

Retreat Nears

This year's Chaminade retreat will be held on the twenty-fourth through the twenty-sixth of November.

This year we are honored to have Father John Gorman, S.M., as retreat master. Father has become a member of the Chaminade faculty this year. Undoubtedly the students of Chaminade are looking forward with serious planning to make this a profitable retreat.

Retreat time is an opportunity for all students to do some serious thinking and strive to be closer to God. A good retreat on the part of all students is a Chaminade tradition. This year's retreat, like those in the past, should be a time of looking back over one's past life with gratitude and penance, and of looking forward to the life ahead with planning and resolution.

Dance Tonight

Brother Joseph Yasho, S.M., has been appointed the moderator of the Dance Committee this year.

The first dance of the year, honoring the football team, will be held tonight in the gym.

Dave Gilmore's combo has been selected as the band for this dance.

It was Bro. Joe's idea to have a Homecoming Queen this year. She will fulfill the same duties as the Football Queen, and will be crowned at the football dance.

Along with many other ideas, Brother Yasho suggested the idea of having sock-hops after the basketball games this year.

Teachers Meet

The Archdiocesan Teachers' Convention was held on the twenty-third and twenty-fourth of October.

Most of the high school teachers from the Archdiocese of St. Louis attended this convention, which was held at Rosati-Kain High School. The purpose of this convention was to find better methods of teaching.

On the first day was a general meeting, with a variety of guest speakers. They spoke on the subject of progress and improvement in our classrooms. The general meeting was followed by a luncheon and section meetings on art, language, home economics, English, science, and mathematics.

BASKETBALL TEAM PREPARES FOR COMING SEASON

On October 20, the Chaminade varsity basketball team began its practice for the forthcoming season. This year's team will again be coached by Bro. Ray Davenport, S.M., who led them to a 17-7 season last year.

The squad this year is composed of five returnees: Skip Viragh, Juan Perez, Ron Meier, Bob Bitter, and Kemper Coffelt. There are a number of boys from last year's B-team who will see a lot of action. They are Bob Van Uum, Jim Brangle, Charlie Nolan, and Pete Knese.

The biggest game and the one most looked forward to is the St. Louis game. A victory in this game would be a step toward the state championship.

PREP NEWS

Even though the Preps' football team won't play many games this year, they are in excellent condition and possess great potentials. The coaches, Bros. Ralph Krull and Hugh Charlson, S.M., have expressed much confidence in the team. Ever since September 3 they have been practicing and are now working on the split-T formation and the single wing.

The first string consists of four eighth graders and seven seventh graders. The line consists of L. Ruzicka and B. Naieede at ends, L. Knese and B. Nickolson at tackles, J. Ackerman and T. Shaner at guards, and M. Mulligan at center. The quarterback is B. Havland, with S. Striebel and B. Gruchalla at left and right tackle, respectively, and F. Schudel at fullmack.

Bonfire

The bonfire is an annual tradition around Chaminade, which is held the night before the big homecoming game to boost school spirit of the football team and the student body. This year's bonfire was held Friday night, October 17, on the big field behind the gym.

The outstanding spirit was again shown by the loud, incessant cheering of the Chaminade students at the bonfire. The cheers were led by Bruce Sommer; various skits were given by some of the seniors, who put some work into their production.

Brother Ray Davenport, S.M., was called upon to give a speech and did so with proud dignity, assuring the students that their backing was a great part of the game.

This year's bonfire was acclaimed as the biggest and best that the Chaminade students have ever seen; the credit goes to the Junior class, under the direction of Brother Joe Yasho, S.M.

Homecoming Queen

During the half-time of our victory over Coyle, the Homecoming Queen and her two maids were escorted onto the field for the grand announcement. They had been chosen earlier by the football players.

The queen was Judy Veith, escorted by Martin Dennis; the first maid was Mary Powers, escorted by Juan Perez, and the second maid was Mary Frawley, escorted by Jack Sanders. Judy will also reign over the football dance, to be held tonight.

Parade

The winning float for this year's homecoming, as judged by Brothers Ernst, O'Connor, and O'Hearn, was that built by Freshmen C, with the theme, "Put Coyle in the Soil." This float was built by Bro. Moerchen's homeroom students. The float consisted of a casket with the remains of Coyle inside.

The winning car was that of Frank Krewet. It was decorated with red and white crepe paper streamers over a white Thunderbird, accented by a flashing red light placed gently on the roof.

Pep Rally

Before the Chaminade - Coyle homecoming game, our school expressed one of their best known qualities: School Spirit. A Pep Rally was held on the football field on Friday, October 17. This rally set off the homecoming week-end, which turned out to be very successful. If you had been at Chaminade on this day you would have heard the spontaneous demonstrations of loud cheers coming from all parts of the long corridors. At 3:30 the homeroom classes started down to the field. On the way each homeroom was trying to give a cheer louder and better than other rival rooms. Finally, after the entire student body had assembled at a given place on the field, the cheerleaders, Bruce Sommer, Juan Perez, Martin Dennis and Skip Viragh, conducted the assembly in a rehearsal of the school cheers and Victory song. Bro. Meinhardt, the new athletic director, was called upon to give a short talk. Brother gave his ideas how the Flyers could beat Coyle Saturday. Mainly —by stopping Steuber.

A new routine was introduced and explained to the student body. This was called the Snake Dance. Its purpose was to spur the football team, who were practicing on the field, to a great victory the next day. To begin this dance the seniors formed a straight line, and this procedure was followed by the juniors, sophomores and freshmen, in that order. This line then moved in a zigzag formation around the sides of the field, cheering as they danced. Cheers and the Snake Dance continued until the line reached school and then dispersed.

If a Pep Rally's success can be measured by the amount of spirit it inspired, then surely the Rally held on Friday, October 17, was an overwhelming success.

FOOTBALL SEASON COMES TO CLOSE

Country Day

On Saturday, September 13, our Chaminade Flyers succumbed to a strong Country Day team for the nineteenth straight time by a score of 25-0,.

The game was highlighted by much passing, blocked kicks, and numerous penalties. Despite our mistakes, we had two offensive standouts in Pete Knese and Rich Kuzmich, who continually hammered their line for sizable yardage. But our mistakes outnumbered our good points, so we weren't in for a very good day.

The first quarter was scoreless as both teams exchanged the ball. As the period ended, Codasco had penetrated deep into our defense.

The second quarter was all Country Day's as they scored early on a twenty yard pass. We held them momentarily, but their pass caught our secondary in the wrong place. We clicked off a few first downs, but were unable to score. They scored again on another twenty yard pass to make the score 13-0 at half-time.

We came out a determined team in the second half. We couldn't get started and Codasco added two more touchdowns on an end run and a fumble.

"We were fortunate to come out of the game with no injuries," said Mr. Buffa, "which was due to the fine conditon of the team. We made enough mistakes to last us a whole season."

Costly Defeat At Hands of Valle

Cathedral

On September 27, the Chaminade Flyers encountered a small but speedy Cathedral team. Even though we outweighed them man per man, their speed was too much for us as they edged us 19-6. The score does not tell the whole story, as the clinching touchdown did not come until the final minute of the game.

The Flyers kicked off to start the half and right away the Crusaders fumbled and we recovered. Chaminade 11 was unable to score and the Crusaders took over and dominated the first half. They made use of our weak ends and scored twice before the half was over—Crusaders 12, Flyers 0.

The Flyers came out a much spirited team and ready to win the game. Our defense was much stronger and never allowed Cathedral to gain consistently. Our offense did not click until the fourth quarter. It started with a 20 yard pass to Bob Hellrung and climaxed with a 25 yard run by Pete Knese. Francis Sommer and Rich Kuzmich provided the punch in between. No sooner had we kicked off we recovered a fumble. We came just short of the first down and Cathedral took over. They ran out two first downs and on 4th down and 2 yards to go, Crusaders sent Cole around the end for thirty-six yards and a 19-6 score.

CHAMINADE TROUNCES COYLE

Flyers Beat D. A.

Knese Around End for Long Yardage

Coyle

The Chaminade Flyers trounced the Coyle Cougars 27-7 for a spectacular ending to the Homecoming Week. It was a team victory, with Bob Hellrung, Pete Knese, Francis Sommer, and Bob Bitter scoring the touchdowns. This victory was played before the largest crowd of the whole year.

We got off to a good start in the first quarter when "Goose" Sommers intercepted a pass and ran 60 yards for a touchdown. The entire first quarter was played exclusively in the Cougars' territory, with our defense stopping them cold. The Flyers scored again in the second quarter on a 60 yard march to give us a 13-0 favor. The touchdown was scored by Pete Knese on a ten yard outstanding run with several Coyle players hanging on. This time Bitter made the extra point as the Flyers went off the field with a surprising margin.

Coyle started the second half with a quick touchdown to narrow the margin 13-7. We scored our final two touchdowns in the fourth quarter. The first one came on a blocked kick which the Flyers recovered. The thirty yards was climaxed by a pass to Bob Hellrung for our third touchdown. Bitter again kicked the point after touchdown and minutes later scored our fourth and final seven points on a quarterback sneak.

It would not be fair to forget about the unsung heroes of the game. Some of these players were Co-Captain Jim Wehner, Jim Gill, Jerry Murphy, Frank Lynch, Jim Bosdech, Jerry Orlando, and Greg Faherty.

FINE BLOCKING AIDS RUN

De Andreis

With Pete Knese scoring two touchdowns, our Chaminade team won their first game of the year. Their 26-13 victory over De Andreis made their record a 1-3 season. Other Chaminade touchdowns were scored by Bob Bitter and Francis Sommers, with Bitter also kicking two extra points.

The game started off with De A. scoring a touchdown in the first 2 minutes. We came back with seven points when Pete Knese ran 15 yards for a touchdown and Bob Bitter kicked the extra point. Francis Sommer also scored a second touchdown, but we missed the extra point.

We started the second half of the game with another Bob Bitter touchdown, but missed the next extra point. The Flyers proved their defense quite strong, with Steve Hartenback, Frank Lynch and Pete Knese playing outstanding ball.

The second half proved our strength, both offensively and defensively. Pete Knese scored the final touchdown to end the game a 26-13 score. Maybe this will be a beginning of things to come.

CHAMINADE COLLEGE — CLAYTON, MISSOURI

CHAMINADE COLLEGE | FRIDAY, DECEMBER 19, 1958 | NUMBER 3

RETREAT

The annual retreat for the high school students started on Monday, November 24, and lasted until Wednesday, the 26th. The retreat master was Reverend John C. Gorman, who became a member of Chaminade's faculty just this year.

During the retreat the students prayed for the recovery of Brother Raymond Davenport's father, who had a heart attack.

When the students arrived at school on Monday morning, they observed signs on the doors and walls which emphasized silence. Silence is very important in making a good retreat, because when somebody is silent he can more easily think about God. Silence was kept at lunch and the students were urged to keep silence at home as far as possible. During days of retreat there was free time between the instructions for confession, spiritual reading, and visits to the chapel. The instructions, which were given in Our Lady of the Pillar Church and in the gym, included topics of sin, confession, prayer, the Holy Eucharist, and vocations. There was also an instruction period for questions only.

The retreat was a good chance for each student to do some thinking about his past and future life. By serious thinking it was possible to see how to become a better follower of Christ. By reflection on past life, sin could be easily seen and resolutions for future life made. Our vocation was also a preoccupation during the retreat for all students, but especially for the seniors.

The three days of retreat are very important, because they make us better and more sincere Catholics.

SENIOR SODALITY SPONSORS TWO CHRISTMAS PROJECTS

The senior sodality is busy with the project of keeping Christ in Christmas. Its traditional part in this is the building of a Nativity crib with accessories in front of school. The figures are almost life-like and made of strong plywood which previous classes have further strengthened with two-by-fours. The whole scene is well lit up at night and is especially impressive to northbound traffic on Lindbergh. Bob Hellrung and Jack Sanders are in charge of the mounting of the figures.

On December 19, the sodality completed the annual food and bundle drive for the poor. Last year's senior sodality supplied twenty-five families with food and clothing. At last report this year's group expected to excel this amount.

Fathers and Sons Enjoy Banquet

Record Crowd Attends Annual Affair

Among the social highlights of the Chaminade year, the annual Fathers' and Sons' Banquet is one of the most cherished. This year the banquet was the largest ever recorded, with 560 in attendance. The fathers and sons enjoyed a delectable sirloin steak, supplemented by other choice courses.

Following the dinner, Mr. Joseph B. Catanzaro heartily welcomed all present at this 21st annual banquet. The toastmaster, Dan Forrestal, emceed a very successful program. Father Blume was introduced and expressed his appreciation for the fine "Chaminade Spirit" displayed in the large attendance. Robert L. Burnes, the guest speaker, delivered a most eloquent and humorous address concerning the history and the certain funny incidents in the life of some of the great names in the sporting world.

Then came the entertainment, consisting of three acts. The first act featured a trained chimp. Next, a very talented tumbler appeared on the stage, jumping in and out of large barrels. Finally a magician performed for the Chaminade audience, and very mysteriously restored Mister Lipic's tie to its entirety.

The evening was climaxed with the distribution of three dozen baseballs and a basketball as attendance prizes. Father J. Willis Langlinais concluded the banquet and festivities with the thanksgiving after meals.

Junior Editorial

by Jim Bozdech

Our Lady of Angels School had been inspected only a week before. It had been found safe as far as fire safety went. A week later, ninety-two were dead — by fire. How? What had escaped the inspector? What little hazard, too small to notice, went unseen? What small mistake of an inspector caused ninety-two to perish? Perhaps a pile of papers was allowed to escape inspection. Perhaps, somewhere in the school, an oily rag was left, forgotten, and allowed to smoulder. Small things. Small things—which cost ninety-two their lives and countless others grief.

How many small things are allowed to cause untold damage in our lives? How many of our small mistakes magnify themselves by the greatness of the damage they do? The experience of a carefully worked problem turning out miserably wrong because of a mistake so small it went unnoticed is common. And even the best of us may go through life unconsciously interchanging "or" and "are." A small mistake? Yes, but a mistake that can give the right people the wrong impression. Even such a small mistake as omitting a comma here and there can mark a person as careless and, of course, lead to the inevitable "bad impression."

It should be clear, then, that these small mistakes, these little things must be "abolished." By persistant accuracy in our work, possibly we can eliminate these "little things . . . which do great damage." By carefully scrutinizing our school assignments now, perhaps we can obviate the worry of making a wrong impression. By carefully checking and re-checking the problems where small mistakes occur most, maybe we can do away with those idiotic small mistakes. Here, too, the checking —of school work, of course—will, with luck, eliminate small mistakes. School work, though obviously not the only place where a grammar or mathematical mistake may occur; but, now school work should be our main concern. Elimination of the plague of small mistakes will make life much easier.

LIBRARY EXPANDS

Along with the new classrooms and labs, we of Chaminade also have a fine library. Our library furnishes information to all students and teachers in fields from psychology to history. While passing through the well-stocked shelves one sees thrilling mysteries, dangerous adventures, and the age-old classics. With the able assistance of Bro. Herman Drees, the librarian, one can find something that will surely please. The reference books of the library are in constant use and even though they can't be taken out, one is always out of the set in use at some table. Though the library was finished last year, the shelving was not completed until the past summer when the Brothers could devote full time to the project. The two study periods that use the library find Bro. Herman a great help for tough problems and find the reference books helpful for term papers and such. The library, then, is an integral part of life at Chaminade, as proved by the fact that this year nearly 60 books are taken out each day, as compared to 40 a day last year.

Juan Perez reads in library. Shown are the books he has read since May.

On the day before the retreat, 140 books were taken out, which were mainly for spiritual reading.

MOTHERS TOUR HOMES

On Tuesday, December 2, the Chaminade Mothers' Club conducted its annual Holiday House Tour. Eight homes were toured by mothers of Chaminade boys and their friends and relatives.

This year a new attraction was added to the agenda of the tour. This spectacular sight was that of our own alma mater, Chaminade.

In our Audio-visual Hall, the former school chapel, which was transfigured into a homey, old-fashioned country kitchen, hot coffee and coffee-cake were served to weary "tourists."

Also in the "country kitchen" was a Pantry Shelf, where excellent home-made pastries such as cakes, pies, cookies and jams made by our own mothers, were sold.

The homes toured by the Chaminade ladies were both interesting and beautifully decorated. They were of many types, including the sophisticated English, the traditional colonial, and the ostentatious Spanish architectures.

The main points of interest in each of the homes were many and varied from beautiful floral displays to magnificently decorated entrance halls.

Without interviewing any of the ladies who attended this year's tour, it is easily said that all enjoyed themselves and anxiously anticipate coming to next year's tour.

THE DECISION

A Short Story, by Jerry Murphy

Illustration by Dennis Printy

As the light of the late summer evening grew dim, William King sat in an over-stuffed easy chair, which seemed out of place in the small, four-room house.

There was a thick coat of dust on the old table and on the three chairs in the middle of the room. The dirty supper dishes rested on the smooth-topped sink bank. The windows, bare of drapes and shades, were wide open, allowing bugs of all kinds to swarm into the hot, stuffy room.

The tall, black-skinned figure lifted his heavy bulk from the chair and strode slowly over to the window. He closed it and moved to the old ice box, the kind that had a fan motor on top, and helped himself to a half-full bottle of milk. He took a gulp, put the top back on, and then replaced it.

He had a stern face, a high forehead, thin eyebrows, and deep-set eyes.

It was 8:30 when William's mother entered the back door, carrying a carpet bag. Mrs. King was a short, chunky woman of forty who looked a lot older. Her graying hair flowed in all directions. Her fat face looked serious. "How do you feel?" she asked.

"I'm okay. How come you're so late again tonight? You been seeing that lady from the NAACP?"

As she sat down in one of the wooden chairs she replied, "Yeah, she sez everything is going to be all right. She sez the others is going to be there, too. So's you can go to school tamara with no worry at all."

"I don't know, Ma; to me it just seems to be beggin' for trouble. You never can tell what them damn fool whites are going to do."

"William King, is you scared of them whites? Remember, they is no different than you or me. And what is you ascared of? The police is to be there. There ain't going to be no trouble at all."

"But Ma, you remember what happened last year up in Court Royal. The police were there too. And Phillskirk isn't any different than them up there. No, we're beggin' for trouble; I'm telling you we're beggin' for trouble."

"Willie, you's a right to go to the High. You gotta fight for your rights. You can't let them scare ya off."

"But Ma, you heard what John Mason down at the bank said he'd do if any of us try to go to Phillskirk High. And with all them Ku Klux Klan crosses burning every night, it just isn't safe."

At that moment a boy wearing dirty blue jeans and a torn T-shirt came through the open back door, carrying a worn ball glove in his left hand. He was short but of athletic build. His eyes were wide and the light from the ceiling reflected off his shiny black skin.

"We won Ma, we beat 'em 17 to 12 and I got three hits!" he exclaimed happily.

"That's fine, Donnie," replied Mrs. King to her younger son.

"We is going to play again Saturday, and if we're lucky we might get to play on the field."

"Why don't ya go to bed, Donnie? Ya gotta big day tamara."

"But Ma, it just got dark. I don't want to go to bed now."

"You heard me, get ta bed."

Willie sat motionless like a stone statue, with a blank expression on his face. After Mrs. King put Donnie to bed she came back into the room. She sat in a chair next to the dirty table. Neither said a word. A strong odor came through the back screen door. The Kings had always left the back door open to get a draft, but when the wind shifted the odor came into the room.

Mrs. King rose to shut the door. "Some day I is going to buy a top for that garbage can. Some day."

William sat quietly, with his head in his big black hands, as if he were in deep contemplation.

"William, do youse feel all right? Youse gotta headache?"

"No, Ma, I feel fine. I was just thinking about tomorrow, going to school and all."

"William, you is going to Phillskirk High tamara, ain't ya?"

"I don't know, Ma; I just don't know."

"Nobody is going to force you to go, you know. It's got to be your own decision."

"I'll go to bed."

"Goodnight, William."

"Goodnight, Ma." He walked towards the door that led to the bedroom. His brother was already asleep, in the double bed they shared.

Five minutes later William was in bed. But he couldn't fall asleep. He thought, maybe if I went to Phillskirk everything would be all right. But there would more likely be trouble, with the colored getting the worst part of it, as they usually do.

The easy thing to do was to go to Wilson, an all-colored school, where he had gone the year before. Although it was overcrowded, it wasn't too bad. It would be easier to go to Wilson. Ma said it was his own decision. Nobody would force him. But then again, if he ran from his rights now, he might never get them.

Although William was overburdened with worry, he finally got to sleep.

Mrs. King was also worried. She wanted William to go to Phillskirk High, but she feared that even though the police were going to be there, William might still get hurt. She new that if he went to Phillskirk High, her cleaning business would slack off. Many of the people for whom she worked were against integration.

Mrs. King was tired. She cleaned houses, working six days a week to earn thirty dollars to support the two boys.

Things had been easier for her when her husband was around, but since he had left there wasn't too much else she could do but clean houses. She knew she neglected the house, but she never had too much time to clean up except on Sundays. She knew she neglected her children, but she didn't have enough time for them either.

Twenty minutes after going to bed, Mrs. King was in a heavy slumber.

The alarm rang at seven o'clock, as it did every morning. William stayed in bed for a few minutes before getting up. Finally he dragged himself from between the three-week-old dirty sheets. He got dressed. His mother was already up fixing breakfast.

It was 7:30 when he walked into the kitchen. He was dressed in clean khaki pants and a sport shirt.

"It's a nice day," said Mrs. King, placing a bowl of cereal in front of William.

"Yeah, it looks like it's going to be a nice day."

Donnie then came into the room in his usual blue jeans and T-shirt. "Boy, am I hungry!" he said as he sat down to breakfast.

Nobody said anything for fifteen minutes.

Mrs. King finally broke the silence: "Ya better had leave early for school today, Donnie."

"I'm going by Warren's house. He told me not to forget."

"Don't you mess around and be late on the first day."

Donnie left the house at 8:15, for it was a half-hour walk to Waden Public School. It was all colored.

Then Mrs. King turned her attention to William.

"You had better get along too. Your lunch is on top of the ice box."

"Yes, I guess I'd better get going."

William went out the front door to the sidewalk. He paused. Then he turned to his right in the direction of Phillskirk High.

The End

Speakers Succeed In Competition

Senior speakers, left to right: W. Olive, W. Burglechner, R. Hellrung, J. Rolwing and D. Curry.

The speech team, which represents Chaminade for the 1958-1959 C.I.S.L. season, includes Robert Hellrung and David Curry in original oratory, Ray Wander and William Burglechner in non-original oratory, Michael Morris and Bob Leggat in extemporaneous speaking, John Rolwing in radio, Jerry Walsh and Bill Olive in humorous interpretation, and last but not least, Joe Wick and Bernie Povich in serious interpretation.

In the first meet, which was held at Fontbonne College, John Rolwing and Bob Hellrung made the finals. This ranked the school rather high in league standing.

At the second meet, held at Maryville College on Dec. 6, the team did quite well. Bob Hellrung and Dave Curry tied for third place in original oratory in the finals, Ray Wander took first

LATIN CLUB WELL UNDER WAY

Brother John Simon, S.M., is the moderator of an extracurricular activity called the Latin Club. This club is an organization of students interested enough in the Latin language to study the lives of the men whose writings they study in their Latin course. The history of the club is as follows: It was organized in the early 1940's and after a lapse of two years was reorganized in 1951 and has continued without interruption ever since.

The club fosters student interest in the mastery of Latin, and searching for more and more material on Greek and Latin mythology.

Time is also spent in preparation for the Nation-wide Latin Examination which takes place in early April, and all Latin students participate.

The Latin Club boasts of two trophies merited by its members for a fine showing in the Nation-wide exam.

This year, through the efforts of the Latin Club, the movie "Julius Caesar" was shown to interested students of Chaminade.

The officers of the club are: Frank Krewet, president; Emert Wyss, vice-president; Eric Leonhardt, secretary; and Jim Epstein, treasurer.

BAND CONCERT WELL DONE

Congratulations!

The Chaminade Concert Band resumed its practice sessions September 3, 1958. The band is once again under the direction of Mr. Kenneth Schiebal. Towards the close of last year, the band members chose officers for the 1958--59 season. They are Bob Hellrung, president; Pete Wunderlich, librarian; Terry Rucinski, vice-president; and Martin Lipic, general business manager. The band has recently played at the teachers' convention at Rosati-Kain High School; Bishop DuBourg High, De Andreis High, and St. Louis U. High also gave musical performances at the convention. There are now fifty-two musicians in the band.

On Sunday night, December 14, at eight o'clock, the Chaminade band had its annual Christmas Concert. It was a performance that everyone in attendance enjoyed. The band played a great variety of selections tailored to satisfy both young and old. "The Parisian Street Dance," "Trombero," and "El Capero" are just a few of the selections played.

SODALITY CONVENTION WELL ATTENDED

Sodalists from schools conducted by the Brothers of Mary held their annual convention in Dayton, Ohio, on November 28, 29 and 30.

Due to circumstances beyond their control, there were many disappointed Chaminade Sodality members who were unable to get to the convention because of the snow storm, which began the day before they were to leave. The trip to Dayton was limited to four boys, J. Sanders, M. Adrian, M. McCarthy, R. Niehoff, and Father Willis, who had to go by train.

Sanders gave a talk on The Intellectual Aspects of Culture; Adrian read the school report on the past year's work; McCarthy led a discussion group on the first talk —the Social Aspects of Culture, and Niehoff was secretary for a group discussion on the Esthetic Aspects of Culture.

The convention planned to discuss as next year's topic, the Vocation of the Sodalist. They made two resolutions this year to improve methods that will require more participation of Sodalists in school and parish activities.

CHRISTMAS

"As sure as there's an "X" in Christmas . . . have a Merry Christmas and Happy New Year, but please buy the beer." Two examples, taken from a current popular song. What was once a feast of great joy for the Catholic Church has been turned into a gimmick to keep cash register bells ringing. People say that in 1900 years a lot can happen—but this? This turning of a highly religious feast into a highly commercial feast could hardly take place in such a short period of time—if there was any sort of religious feeling in the world. If we're lucky, though, it won't take 1900 more years to change the feast back to its original tone.

PREP NEWS

Now that the following class officers of the 8th grade are elected: Dennis Walters, president; Kim Dalton, vice-president; Charles Fischer, secretary; Leonard Ruzicka, treasurer; and Tim Crowe, parliamentarian, two problems are confronting them: the Christmas Essay Contest and the grade school food and clothing drive of which the proceeds will go to the parish of Christ the King in Cadet, Missouri.

The Christmas Essay Contest will be open to the seventh and eighth grades. There will be first, second, and third place prizes. Essays will be written on anything of religious note and the prizes will be of a religious nature also.

Alumni Hold Dance

On November 8, using the decorations of the Football Dance, which was held the previous night, the Alumni of Chaminade held a dance of much greater proportion.

More than 200 crowded the gym, and this certainly surpassed the highest expectations for attendance. As an added highlight, flowers were presented to the ladies, and extra prizes were given.

At this meeting, specially designed pins were presented to the Alumni officers, who included: Dr. William Gillespie, Mr. Albert Schweitzer, and the retiring president, Mr. Raymond Masek.

FLYERS TAKE THIRD AT BORGIA

St. Francis Borgia Tournament

De Sales Game

The Chaminade Flyers opened their 1958 season on a sweet note with a stunning victory over St. Francis de Sales by a score of 64-40.

The game, on Nov. 26, was part of the St. Francis Borgia Tournament, in which Chaminade had been seeded fourth. The Flyers played free-lance basketball with no set pattern under the guidance of Bro. John Haug, who was coaching in the absence of Bro. Raymond Davenport.

The Flyers' starting lineup had Juan Perez and Don Carmody as guards and Skip Viragh and Bob Bitter as forwards, flanking Ron Meier at center. They jumped off to a quick start and Chaminade thumped de Sales the first half. The Flyers went off at halftime ahead by the score of 36-10.

In the second half, the Flyers retained their lead as the whole team got a chance to play. In the end, Chaminade was ahead and the victor of a 64-40 score. The scoring was well divided, but Bob Bitter with 14 points and Skip Viragh with 11 points headed the field.

Freshman Football Team Has Successful Season

The C-team, under the able direction of Bro. Cyril Boschert, had a successful season, compiling a 2-1-1 record.

They had a strong line, consisting of Wunderlich, Berkmeyer, Bartels, Jones, Grzovic, and Barrett, Ell, Brown, Hunter and Baun made up a speedy backfield. The scores of their games were:

Assumption 7	C-team 0
Cathedral 7	C-team 14
McBride 6	C-team 32
St. Marys 20	C-team 20

DuBourg Game

On Nov. 28, the Chaminade Flyers lost a hard fought battle to DuBourg, 61-57 in the quarter-finals of the tournament. The game was a tough contest as the Cavaliers' balanced height and hot shooting paid richly. They had to fight hard to overcome an early thirteen point deficit racked up by the Flyers.

As the first half progressed, the Flyers quickly moved into an early lead due to strength under the boards. The Flyers enjoyed a 13 point lead, 24-11, but then they slacked off. DuBourg came back hard and fast as the Flyers' shooting, passing, and rebounding went awry. We managed to escape with a 31-28 lead as the first half ended.

The second half was a see-saw battle as the Flyers kept up a steady pace. Our attack suffered as Ron Meier collected his fourth personal foul late in the third quarter. Chaminade was hurt even worse when Skip Viragh suffered his fourth infraction. The Flyers held them at bay until there was about three and a half minutes remaining. Then DuBourg struck quickly and lengthened its lead to 59-51. Chaminade countered with three baskets to close the gap to 59-57. With about 18 seconds remaining DuBourg brought the ball down only to find itself trapped in a corner. A careless foul by Chaminade followed and two free throws made it a 61-57 lead and a victory to DuBourg. The Flyers went off knowing they had lost to a tough team but not a better team. The high scorers for Chaminade were Skip Viragh with 20 points and Bob Bitter with 11 points.

Bro. Meinhardt Honored

Brother Louis Meinhardt, S.M., athletic director at Chaminade and former coach, athletic director and principal of Assumption, was signally honored Wednesday, Dec. 3, when he was selected to be speaker for the evening at the Fourth Degree, K. of C. Letterman's banquet for the successful Assumption football team.

Montgomery City

On Saturday night, November 29, the Chaminade Flyers rebounded from their loss to DuBourg with a 59-37 victory over a good Montgomery City team to gain third place in the St. Francis Borgia Tournament.

From the very beginning of the game it was obvious that the Flyers were out to win. They struck first blood and led throughout the entire game. The score at half-time was 33-19. Although the Flyers were held to only one field goal during the last eight minutes, they showed dead aim from the free throw line, hitting 18 out of 19 shots. The shooting percentage was a low 29%.

Skip Viragh led the scorers with 17 points, followed closely by Juan Perez, who had 14 points, and Bob Bitter with 11.

Perez drives for two.

CHAMINADE BOWS TO BILLS

On Dec. 7, the Chaminade Flyers lost a hard fought battle to the Junior Bills. This was the game that most people wanted to win, but it was not to be had as the Flyers bowed out, 54-44. We were behind all of the game, but several times we narrowed the gap to three or four points. Our defense was not tight enough as the S.L.U.H.'s hit several times from out-court and also on lay-ups.

From the very beginning the Flyers were never in the lead but kept pecking away. A thrill was provided as a last second shot was dropped in from half-court by Juan Perez. The shot was ruled no good because it was fired after the buzzer. As it was, the Flyers trailed at the end of the first quarter by 13-7. The second quarter was no different, as the Flyers lost still a little more ground and trailed by a 29-20 score.

The Flyers came out a bit more determined in the second half as they started the uphill battle. Midway in the third quarter, amidst the tremendous cheering, they cut the margin to 34-30. From then on the Flyers were behind. In the fourth quarter Bob Bitter and Skip Viragh suffered their fourth foul and Bob was brought out. The Flyers narrowed the margin to 40-36, but that was the nearest they came to overtaking the Junior Bills. As the Bills stalled the ball, Chaminade fouled, their only choice, and St. Louis took advantage of the free throws. The game ended in a 54-44 defeat as a sad Chaminade team left the floor. The Flyers' high scorers were Skip Viragh with 18 points and Don Carmody with 14.

Laboure

On Dec. 5, the Chaminade Flyers made it three in a row as they manhandled Laboure, 66-44. It was a team victory as the Flyers had three men in double figures. Not to be overlooked was the tight defense of Laboure, yet they were lacking in height. Their defense slacked off in the second half as the Flyers ran them to death.

The game started off nip and tuck, as the lead switched hands often. As time progressed, the Flyers moved ahead as their passing and shooting started to click. The Chaminade Flyers went off the floor at half-time leading by the score of 27-19.

The Flyers moved steadily ahead in the second half and opened the gap up to 15 points at times. The game finished off with a 66-44 score in favor of Chaminade. Our high scorers were Skip Viragh with 14 points, Don Carmody with 13, and Ron Meier with 19 points.

Chaminade Wins First League Game

On December 2, the Chaminade Flyers, playing their first game at home, opened the Catholic League season with a 59-47 win over a tough under-rated Marquette team.

The game was nip-and-tuck during the first half, the lead changing hands several times. Chaminade fought to a slim one point lead at the intermission with the score 27-26.

The score was close until midpoint in the third period, when the Flyers slowly edged away from the determined team from Alton. It was the first basketball league game for the Explorers, who played Catholic League competition last year but did not join the league till this year.

The Flyers displayed a balanced attack, with the scoring honors of the night going to Skip Viragh who dropped in 15 points. Rebounding Bob Bitter had 11 points along with Ronnie Meier, who showed occasional flashes of brilliance. Don Carmody and Juan Perez had 10 and 9 points, respectively.

BASKETBALL PEP RALLY

On Dec. 5, in the Chaminade gymnasium, the first basketball pep rally of the season was held.

Bob Hellrung was MC. Father Blume, president of Chaminade, awarded spirit trophies for the football season to Senior A and Junior B, then Brother Louis Meinhardt, the athletic director, gave football letters to members of the C-team, Junior Varsity, and Varsity. Pete Knese received special recognition for being named to the first All-Star team of the Catholic League. Jim Wehner, who placed on the second team, and Jim Gill were co-captains of the football team.

After Brother Ray Davenport, coach of the Varsity, introduced the team, Father Blume blessed them. Skip Viragh and Juan Perez were named co-captains. The cheerleaders led a few cheers while the C-team warmed up for a game with Burroughs.

place in the finals in non-original oratory, while John Rolwing took fifth place, also in the finals. These wins boosted the team in league standing. The rest of the team must not be overlooked, for they have done a very commendable job considering that on the whole they are new and inexperienced.

On Dec. 9, Bob Hellrung entered the American Legion contest in oratory, which was held at Maplewood High School. Bob was competing against four other schools and was runner-up to a student from University City.

Debate Team Victorious

Scores Twice In League Competition

The C.I.S.L. debate season has started. This year Chaminade has an experienced team representing the school. The team, consisting of Jerry Walsh, Bob Leggat, J. P. Murphy, and William McBride have fared well thus far in league competition.

In the first meet, held at D.A., the team secured seven wins and one loss, with Jerry Walsh and J. P. Murphy taking speaker awards. The next meet, scheduled for Feb. 21, was held at St. Elizabeth's Academy. The third and final meet is to be held at Chaminade.

The school can well be proud of this year's debate team. Congratulations, debators, and keep up the good work!

FORMER SCHOOL PRESIDENT CELEBRATES JUBILEE

Father Lawrence Jordan, S.M., former president of Chaminade College, celebrates this year his 25th anniversary of ordination to the Holy Priesthood. In recent years Father Jordan has been chaplain at the Marianist Scholasticate and taught theology at St. Mary's University in San Antonio.

After his ordination Father Jordan was, at various times, chaplain at McBride in St. Louis, Central Catholic in San Antonio, and Maryhurst in Kirkwood, Mo. In 1941 he became pioneer confessor of novices at Marynook in Galesville, Wis., also assistant to the pastor of Trempeleau in charge of the mission churches in Galesville and Ettrick.

Father Jordan was president of Chaminade College from 1942-48 and again from 1952-55. He was principal of McBride High School from 1949-1952.

The first of February, Father Jordan left New York bound for Lima Peru, where he will take up duties at Colegio Santa Maria.

STATE PATROLMAN ADDRESSES STUDENT BODY ON SAFE DRIVING

Sergeant Thurmann instructs and entertains at assembly during Safe Driving Week.

Sergeant George Thurmann of the Highway Patrol, accomplished two things during his speech on January 26 at the safe-driving assembly. Besides stressing safe driving, he allayed the fears of many fifteen-year-olders by stating firmly that he didn't believe the driving age would be raised to eighteen years because of financial matters involved in such a raising.

Originally intended to include a demonstration of stopping distances from varying speeds, the assembly had to be revamped because of bad weather. Instead of the demonstration, a movie entitled "Chain Reaction" was shown.

The assembly opened with Sergeant Thurmann's speech, in which he stressed safe driving. His speech was interspersed with a parable of those who hadn't heeded the admonition to drive safely. The sergeant pointed out in his speech that the teenage custom of "laying a strip" here and there, besides being a foolish custom, was also an expensive one. His last remark, though, was the "surprise" of the Safe-Driving Assembly. He shocked the crowd by telling them that the oldest dragster picked up was a "mature" sixty-four. Following his speech he opened a discussion on the crowd's questions. This was when he endeared himself to the"fifteeners" by his statement that the minimum driving age would stay the same.

After the audience had finished their questioning, the movie was shown. It proved very interesting and, at times, quite humorous.

Bob Hellrung, conducting the assembly in his capacity of Student Council president, then finaled the program by introducing Lou Gallipeau, who gave an interesting speech on hot rod clubs and their aims. The program finished with Bob's warning to "drive home safely," a fitting conclusion to the assembly.

Day of Recollection Successful For Chaminade Alumni

A successful day of recollection was made on Feb. 14, in the school chapel. Fifty attended and profited by the talks of Fr. Michael Dorsey, S.M., an alumnus of the class of '39. Mr. Gary Harrison, of the class of '56, along with the president, Mr. Lloyd Klinedinst, served as chairmen of the day.

A unique feature of the day was a model alumni meeting held during the retreat hours. At this meeting a financial report indicated that some $200 was netted on the first dance, that $300 had been donated by the alumni for its scholarship student, and that some $45 were spent on supplying the boarders with popular magazines. Plans were laid for the coming horse show ad program, to be under way March 1. The goal for this year was set at $4000. The show itself, set for Sunday, May 24, will have the unique feature this year of awarding several valuable attendance prizes.

At this meeting also, the date for senior induction was set for March 19, the feast of St. Joseph. On this day also the alumni will honor Chaminade's three jubilarians — Bro. Ferdinand Pfeuffer, S.M.; Bro. Charles Labus, S.M., and Bro. Emil Pawelek, S.M.

DISCOVERY . . . An Essay by Mike Britt

I met him long ago. Yes, I have known him all my life. Looking back, I can recall several high spots in our relationship. When I was a small boy, I thought he was a giant. His face was big, sometimes stern, but more often it held a smile. A funny thing about that smile, it traveled all the way over his mouth and came out through his eyes. He had the longest arms. I should know, for they could reach and grab the seat of my pants quick as a cat. Sometimes this was to detain me when I was proceeding in the wrong direction. Sometimes merely to hold me for a pleasant pat on the back or a farewell kiss. I often watched him walk away from me. His stride was full and regular. His shoulders straight and broad. I took a good many rides on those shoulders, walking or galloping, whatever our mood.

One day, when I caught a foul tip full in the mouth, I learned how strong he was. Howling with pain, I ran into his arms. He lifted my hundred pounds as if I were a baby. A clean towel pressed tight to my mouth smothered the howls and soaked up the blood. A few quick steps and we were speeding to the hospital. There, amidst starched nurses, a doctor and shining instruments, my tears and fears were wiped away. A kind, warm hand held mine through the ordeal of surgery. Driving home, the giant explained to me that a mistake of a man's judgment had caused the accident. He pointed out that I was growing up. I had been very brave when the stitches were put in, but I had also been very lucky. He explained that I was old enough to recognize danger, both physical and moral. His voice held a note of grown-up warning when he said, "Use your head, my boy, for more than catching your hat!" There was a somewhat softer tone to the rest of his conversation. "Mike, you have been taught the rules of obedience, and to honor your mother and father. Sometimes you have tested the rules to see just what would happen. Obedience is the law of God's universe; obey and you will grow in wisdom and enjoy living."

I lay nursing my wounds before the whole of our conversation began to take shape in my own mind. I had discovered something new inside myself. My heart which had loved this giant was beginning to beat my will into line. I began to see and to know why this man was my ideal. True, my childhood impressions of him were crumbling a bit. He was not a giant, but a simple man who had spent many hours with me trying to communicate his own obedience to God on to me.

His ability to understand me came from his own experience of living. He knew the pitfalls and bumps. The rules of discipline that had been pointed out to me were not to show authority, but to reflect a lesson he had learned. I must study to learn. I must stir my thinking to build my judgment. Good friendships were protection against idle wanderings.

I realized that he had spent thirty years working hard to provide for the home I lived in. Every morning for twenty years he had started his day with Mass and Communion. I felt sure there must have been some mornings when this was not easy to do. But rain or shine, cold or warm, he had been in church to start his day.

His day . . . this was a strange thought; suddenly I found myself walking dream-like in great footsteps. I answered phone calls. I made decisions, listened to people tell their troubles, walked for hours on hot pavements. I began to find the confusion of this hustle very tiring. My head throbbed as I drove home. It would be good to take off my hot suit. The shoes on my feet felt tight and cramped my toes. I hoped for time to relax, so that I might enjoy my dinner. Nine thousand days rested on my shoulders. I felt myself bending under the load. Shrugging or twisting did not throw it off. A glance in the rear view mirror revealed my face. It looked older today. A line or two dug deeper at the corners of my eyes. The freshness of the morning shave had vanished. My hat pressed into my forehead. When I removed it, the warm air brushed softly. The hair of my head looked a little thinner and not quite so dark. Had this happened in one day? No, not one, but in the hundreds of days that I had been too busy to regard as important. Here were the hours of time in a man's life spent in study, work, and helping people. They had been used so quietly that they had passed unnoticed by my curious eyes and ears.

The droning traffic noise suddenly boomed through my brain. A voice called me back from my dream. "How do you feel, Bud?" The day was over—I was at home. I wasn't driving a car, but resting in my bed. My eyes focused hazily on a familiar face. There was a smile that started on his lips and spread all the way to his eyes. My childhood giant, my boyhood friend was today revealed as the man I would like to be—my Dad.

It had taken me a long time to find him. Yes, it took a large-sized blow. A good dose of pain and a solid backward look into my conscience. Someone I had known about all my life, but today when I tried to write the story of my discovery the words were a bit vague. My story may fail to produce the feelings within me that beat to get out. Perhaps the true meaning will not be found in the words I have written, but in the keeping of a promise I have made to myself: to strive, from this day onward, to build my life on the principles he has drummed into my thick head. I know that I buried them sometimes when they didn't meet with my wilful opinion, but I shall continue to dig them out, for I am sure they are there. If I can't find the answer, I know where to go. The rules should be easier to follow now that I recognize their meaning and I have a good model before my eyes. . . . I hope to make the pattern fit.

The End

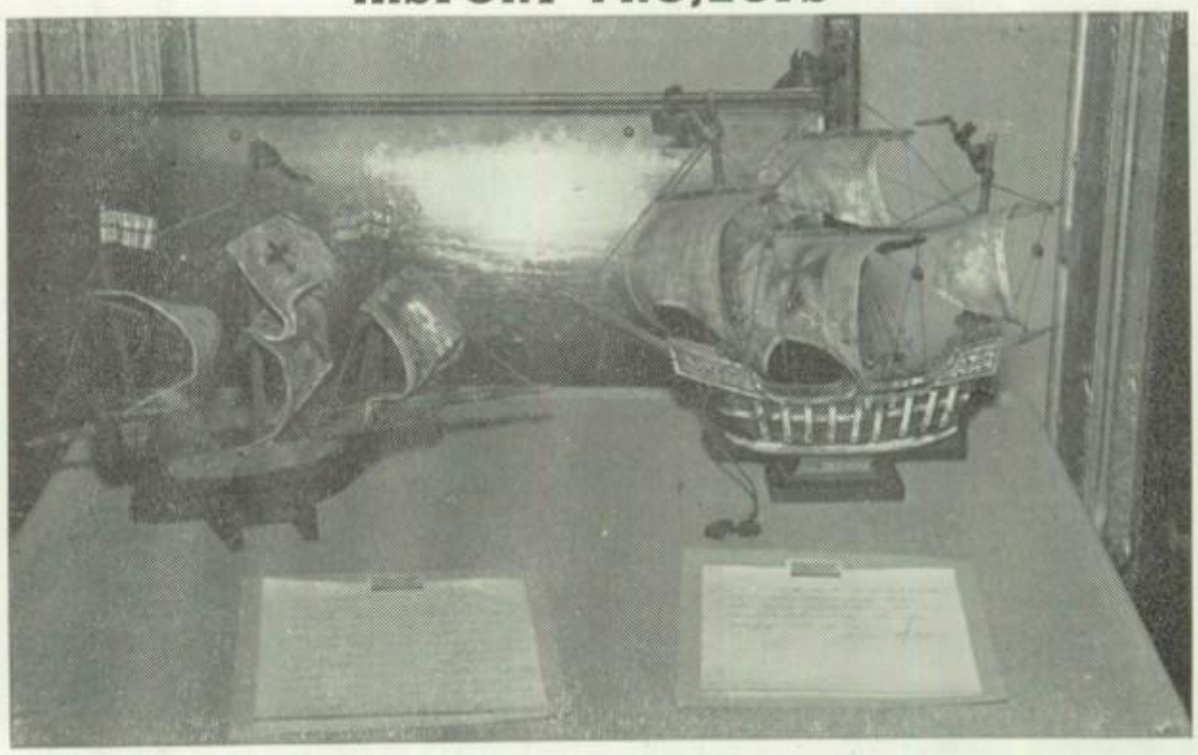
Fledgling Hams, Eggheads Busy

Chaminade's Radio Club, under the call letters WOQON, was inaugurated in 1953. At that time three former students and Bro. Eugene Meyer decided to form a club to promote the study of electronics. From that simple beginning came a club which annually numbers about 18 members. The club boasts two communication receivers, a Collins 75A3 and a National NC 300, along with transmitters on the ten, twenty, forty, and eighty meter amateur bands.

The aim of the Radio Club is that every member pass the government test for a ham license. To achieve this end a forty-five minute period is set aside for the club every day. During this period the members study code and theory, and build a transmitter to be used after the license is obtained.

Brother Eugene Meyer is the moderator of the club, which is sponsored by the Chaminade Mothers' Club.

HISTORY PROJECTS



Within the past weeks the two freshman History classes, under the direction of Bro. Harold Lootens, and Bro. John Klein's fifth grade, have put on history displays in the school auditorium. Shown above is one of the fifth grade projects.

Chaminade Speech Clinic Underway

On Monday, February 9, the Speech Clinic, conducted by Bro. Frank Klapp, S.M., opened for this year. The main objective for those joining is to acquire the minimum essentials of speech training in a regular classroom procedure.

The Clinic is open to seniors, juniors, and sophomores, who have not had previous speech training here at Chaminade.

Another vital factor of the Speech Clinic is that it has great value in forming leaders for Church and State, in developing personality and in preparing for the world of college and business —all these benefits are too obvious to belabor.

Those wishing to join received academic approval from the principal before joining the clinic.

The Clinic was begun this year again because many students and parents have petitioned for more speech training at Chaminade.

The Clinic will be held until the beginning of Easter vacation. Nine juniors and seniors are taking part.

Chess-Meets and Checkmates

Did you know Chaminade had a chess team? And did you know it has matched two other schools? Well, it does, and it has. The first meet participated in was against Parkway on the Saturday before Thanksgiving. Our players were: L. Carmody, Juan Perez, A. Siniscal, and J. Steger. Each player won both of his games, making the final score 8-0 in favor of Chaminade.

In the second meet, which was held against U. City on Dec. 17, there were a few new players on our side, plus the players from the first meet, excepting Perez. The new players were T. Rucinski, Bill Olive, Rich Febuary, and Bob Hennessy. Carmody, Steger, and February each won a game; Siniscal tied one game, securing a half point. Our score was 3½ and U. City's was 4½.

There will be one more game in the near future, a rematch against U. City.

Father Langlainais is the chess team coach and Bro. David O'Hearn arranges the meets.

Yearbook Pictures Completed

The Chaminade Photography Club, under the able direction of Brother Eugene Meyer, completed the 1959 yearbook pictures several weeks ago. During the last three months, the club's four members, Ted Janson, Ray Wander, Ted Mueller and Clancy Klingert, have worked diligently and have contributed much of their time and energy photographing and processing numerous pictures for the Cardinal, and Cardinal and White. To make it possible for the Photography Club to carry out these various functions, it has been stocked with some of the most modern equipment available, and it is utterly amazing to watch the speed and dexterity with which the members manipulate this equipment. It is evident that this organization holds a place of high esteem among the many extra-curricular activities at Chaminade as long as there are photographs to be taken and a qualified staff to take them.

After-Game Sock-Hops

On the evenings of January 9 and January 16, following the Coyle and C.B.C. basketball games, respectively, the first "Sock-Hops" of the year were held in the Chaminade gymnasium. The overwhelming victories of both teams supplemented the jubilant evening.

Music for dancing was furnished by the records well selected by Bro. Joseph Yasho, head of the Dance Committee.

Because the after-game affair was titled a "Sock-Hop," a few daring souls braved the chill literally in sox.

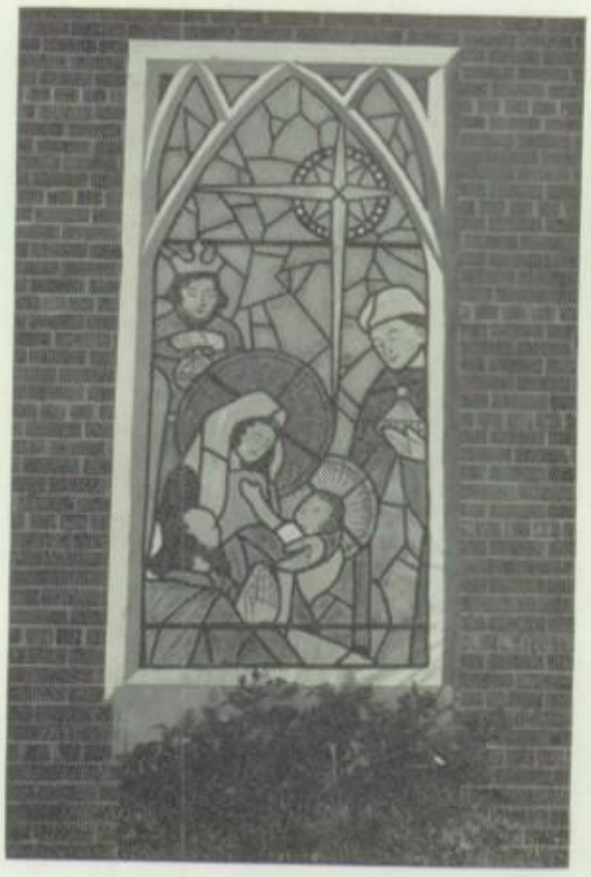
The sox were salient in many ways. Some had decorative beads on them, others had their owners' names, or that of their alma mater, Chaminade.

It could easily be noticed that a good deal of time and work had gone into preparation for the debut of certain sox. In fact, at one of the hops, when it was announced that it would not be necessary to remove the shoes for the dancing because of inclement weather, certain ones did so anyway, to show their different footwear.

The Sock-Hops, like most of the dances here at school, are primarily for collecting money for the annual Junior-Senior Prom at the close of the school year.

Everyone had an enjoyable time at both affairs and anticipates more of the same.

Artistic Christmas



One of the most prominent Christmas decorations at Chaminade was the painting on the faculty building. It portrayed the Nativity of Our Lord. Robert Rodgers, a member of the art class, painted the scene, using some techniques new at Chaminade. First of all, a special paint was used so that "black light" made the picture appear in the dark. Then oil colors were used to heighten the effect of stained glass. At night it was hard to tell that it wasn't a window.

FLYERS HIGH

CBC Defeated

On January 16, the Chaminade Flyers gained a 54-43 victory over the Cadets from C.B.C. After a sloppy first quarter, in which both teams lost the ball on several occasions, the Cadets had a 11-7 edge. But then Bob Bitter sparked the Flyers to a 23-22 half-time lead. Bob Van Num showed his ball handling ability in the second half as he and Juan Perez literally ran circles around the Cadets. It was Perez who iced the game with a driving layup after the determined Cadets came within two points with three minutes left in the game.

Cathedral Does It Again

The Cathedral gym in Belleville was packed on January 23 as the Flyers bowed to their traditional Catholic League rival, Cathedral. The Belleville team hit a torrid percent of their shots as they gained the 90-76 victory. The score at the end of the half was 54-43 (this is the same score of the entire C.B.C. game). Skip Viragh fouled out of the game in the opening minutes of the second half and Ronnie Meier was hampered with four fouls. The Flyers racked up their season high of 76, but they couldn't catch up with the hot-shooting Cathedral team.

McBride

The Flyers proved the old saying, "Revenge is sweet," as they defeated McBride 67-56 after losing to the Micks only one week earlier in the finals of the D.A. tournament. The first eight minutes placed both teams on almost equal terms, as the score was tied quite often. In the second quarter the Flyers slowly crept away to a 36-26 lead at intermission. In the beginning of the third quarter the Flyers hit a cold spot as McBride cut the lead to two points. Then the Flyers engineered their fast break as they scored the 67-56 decisive victory. Don Carmody, playing one of his best games of the season, tallied 20 points, as did Skip Viragh. Bob Bitter put in 15 markers.

B-Team

Priesmeyer up.

The B-team shows a brighter prospect for the future than their 9-6 record would indicate. The Jr. Flyers are under the capable direction of Bro. John Haug. The first string is composed of Tom Hovland, Joe Priesmeyer, Jim Korak, John Virant, Fritz Heil and John Vatterott.

In the first game the B-team lost a close one to Marquette 43-39, as Bob Viragh with 14 and Jim Korak with 11 points were high for the night.

The Junior Flyers then swamped Laboure 47-30 as Heil scored 13 points, and then triumped over S.L.U.H. 43-37.

Skip Viragh and Juan Perez receiving second place trophy in DeAndreis Tournament.

The B-team lost to C.B.C. by 35-29, and then they bounced back to knock off Assumption 41-39 as John Vatterott sank two free throws in the last few seconds.

They lost a heartbreaker to Cathedral 46 to 44, but came back to take Priory 55-42. Joe Priesmeyer sank 18 points in a losing cause to McBride, 34-33. They then beat Coyle and De Sales to bring their record up to 9-6.

Fred Schudel uses height for Preps in losing cause.

C-Team Soars To Finest Season

The freshman basketball team scored its first victory on Dec. 5 against John Burroughs. The game was a decisive 37-18 score as Rick Berkmeyer scored 19 points. This was their first game of the year; they got off to a great start under the fine coaching of Brother Cyril Boschert, S.M. The starting team is composed of Leon Higdon at center, Greg Bartels and Rick Berkmeyer at forwards, and Bob Brown and Tom Becker at guards.

The C-team picked up its second victory on Dec. 10 as they defeated Lindbergh by 46-31. Berkmeyer was high scorer with 21 points.

The Jr.-Jr. Flyers gained their third straight triumph as they beat St. Mary's 41-37.

The team won its fourth straight on Dec. 16 with a 24-21 win over McBride. This was the third year in a row that Brother Cyril's team had won all four of its games before Christmas.

They defeated Lindbergh 30-24 on January 6, on our own court.

The C-team picked up its sixth win with an overwhelming victory over St. Thomas Aquinas.

The freshmen took their first defeat January 10, in a double overtime game with Cathedral of Belleville.

After taking a loss handed to them by Cathedral, on Jan. 13 the C-team bounced back with a 38-32 victory over C.B.C.

The C-team took its second defeat of the season on Jan. 16 by a score of 32-28. This game was played on the home court against St. Louis U. High.

Confidence was regained by defeating St. Francis de Sales by a score of 46-18. Tom Becker led the scoring this game with 17 points.

The ninth win of the season came when the C-team defeated Blessed Sacrament by a score of 46-45.

On Jan. 30 the team defeated

Brother Louis, with his many years of experience in sports, should be capable of doing the same bang-up job that Brother Ray did in '58.

Two practice meets will be held on Wednesday and Friday, April 1 and 3, with teams to confirm their participation. Then on Monday, April 6, DuBourg will be Chaminade's guests. On Tuesday and Wednesday, the prelims at Clayton will be held. Friday, Chaminade visits Bayless, and Saturday of that same week, April 11, the Clayton Invitational Finals.

Chaminade visits Lindbergh on Tuesday and then hies itself over to Country Day for a meet on Friday—this on the 14th and 17th of April.

10th Annual Invitational At Chaminade

Chaminade will again be host to some 12 or more schools in the Invitationals on Tuesday, April 21, and the finals scheduled for Thursday, the 23rd.

Four additional dual or triangular meets the following two weeks will round out a very busy schedule for Flyer track and field stars.

Alumni Inducts Seniors

Honors Jubiliarians and Plans Future Activities

The seniors were inducted into the Alumni on Thursday, March 19, in a ceremony in which sixty-four seniors received diplomas, making them accepted members of this busy Chaminade organization.

Along with these new members, Chaminade's three jubilarians in the Society of Mary were honored with the presentation of Masses. The three jubilarians are — Bro. Ferdinand Pfeuffer, S.M.; Bro. Charles Labus, S.M.; and Bro. Emil Pawelek, S.M.

At this same meeting a film of the Hawks vs. Celtics game was shown and enjoyed by those present.

Also, the coming Horse Show was discussed.

The fourth annual Chaminade Horse Show will be presented on Sunday afternoon of May 24. There will be many prominent riders throughout the city participating in the eight classes. Mr. Ray Masek, who is nationally famous for horse shows, will be the chairman. He will be assisted by the Alumni president, Mr. Lloyd Klinedinst. This year the horse show offers a new feature along with the regular prizes. A five hundred dollar gift certificate will be the main attendance prize. The proceeds from the horse show will be used to sponsor the Alumni Scholarship program and also to erect an ornate entrance to Chaminade. All students, their families, and their dates are cordially invited to attend this year's horse show.

CHAMINADE CELEBRATES THREE JUBILEES

This year Chaminade honors three jubilarians: Brother Charles Labus, S.M., Bro. Emil Pawelek, S.M., and Brother Ferdinand Pfeuffer, S.M.

Brother Pfeuffer, who has been in the Society of Mary sixty years, celebrates his Diamond Jubilee this year. Over the years Brother Ferdinand has been stationed at St. Michael's in Chicago and St. Joseph's in Victoria, Texas. For the last thirty years Brother Ferdinand has been here at Chaminade. Formerly, he taught the fifth and eighth grades, was a prefect, and managed the candy store. Brother Ferdinand is well remembered by former students of Chaminade.

Brother Charles Labus celebrates his Silver Jubilee this year. After attending Assumption High, Brother Charles went to Maryhurst, where he took his final vows. Formerly, he was stationed at St. Mary's, McBride, and Central Catholic in San Antonio, Texas. From 1951 to 1958, Brother Charles was in Peru, teaching at Colegio Santa Maria in Lima and Colegio San Antonio in Callao. During the summer, Brother Charles took care of Father Dunn's Newsboys' Camp at Eureka, Missouri. This year he is teaching the sixth grade here at Chaminade.

Brother Emil Pawelek, born at Matagorda, Texas, also celebrates his 25th year as a Brother of Mary. After taking his vows, Brother Emil spent three years

THREE TYPES OF RELIGIOUS LIFE DISCUSSED ON VOCATION DAY

Bri. Timothy, F.S.C., addresses the students in the gym on his type of religious life.

On Monday, March 2, Chaminade students attended Vocation Day lectures in the Chaminade gymnasium. The purpose of the assembly was to obtain a close look at three types of vocations: contemplative, teaching religious, and missionary work. The talks were attended by the eighth grade of Chaminade, the eighth grade of Our Lady of the Pillar, and students of Chaminade High School. The Reverend Pettit Berchmans, of the Order of the Most Holy Passion and Death of Our Lord, spoke eloquently on the contemplative form of a religious vocation. Brother Timothy, F.S.C., a Christian Brother, delivered an inspiring lecture on the work of a Christian brother and the satisfaction and happiness he encounters in working with boys.

The Reverend Blase Bonpane, M.M., a Maryknoll missionary, outlined for us the training and work of a missionary, and the reasons that he chose such work. Each speaker very clearly showed the reasons why one would choose such a life as they, and told us ways that we might use to decide whether or not we have a religious vocation. Between talks the Chaminade Band entertained the students with several numbers of interest.

C.I.S.L. Debate Season Closes

The C.I.S.L. speech season has at long last come to an end. During the first part of the season the team fared well, placing sixth out of twenty-one schools in competition. Bob Hellrung, John Rolwing, Raymond Wander, and David Currie made the finals and ranked highly in league competition. Raymond Wander received a second place silver medal in Non-Original Oratory, and also has been chosen to represent Chaminade at Boys' State this year.

The debate team too had a highly successful season. The team placed fifth out of a field of thirteen competitors. Jerry Walsh and J. P. Murphy received speakers' awards at the first meet, which was held at De Andreis High School.

Dave Currie, Robert Hellrung, Jerry Walsh, Raymond Wander, and Joe Wick were chosen to speak at Our Lady of the Pillar for the seventh and eighth grade pupils. The talks were well given and very well appreciated.

All in all, the 1958-1959 speech season has been a successful and profitable one from the viewpoint that the majority of the members of the teams gained the needed experience which will insure the team's success in the forthcoming year.

SUCCESS OR FAILURE?

The young man turned away. The Man, the Christ, had failed. Died. The Man who had worked miracles hadn't been able to save Himself. The young man glanced back. In the darkness he saw two men begin to take Him down. He walked slowly back to town. He tried to think, but the hollow ring made by his feet distracted him. He wanted to cry, yet he was too sad. He passed the spot where the Man had met His mother. Now the Man was dead. Why? In the grimness of the dark street he longed to cry out, to relieve the sadness that oppressed him. Scream. He must—yet he couldn't. Scream. Anything to remove the welter of confusion in his mind. I had believed in Him, the young man thought bitterly. Why had He had to die? His head began to ache from the sadness inside. The Man had failed. In his small room he tried to reason why the Man had failed. He couldn't. Confusion. Sadness. Both kept him awake. In the darkness of the corners he saw the crucifixion repeated again and again and again. Finally the young man cried himself to sleep.

It was three days hence. The sun was just beginning to warm the countryside. The landscape itself was beautiful—so much so that the young man felt like singing. He came upon the sepulchre where the Christ was buried. It was open, and the most beautiful and the brightest light he had ever seen poured forth. Then he saw why Christ—was arisen. A heavenly chorus was singing His praises. Joyfully he ran to Him. Joyfully he waited His words of victory. Instead . . . yet the words were too beautiful for him —yet. The young man felt a wave of guilt for his doubt—and for the doubt of the world. He understood His words then. By His death He had won forgiveness for the world. He felt happier than he had ever felt. Christ was arisen! Easter for the young man was truly a day of triumphant happiness.

AUDITORIUM NEARS COMPLETION

Did you know that Chaminade College was built back in 1909-1910, and that the large room on the north end of the first floor was intended to be an auditorium? And yet, did you know that it was only last year that this plan was realized? Only we present Chaminade students have come to see and use a Chaminade auditorium.

From 1910 to 1926 the room was used as the Brothers' and boarders' chapel. In 1926, when the enrollment passed 200 and the room was too small for chapel services, a chapel building, eventually dubbed "The Cardboard Cathedral," was put up at the site of the north wing of the present faculty building. Until 1931, therefore, the "auditorium" was converted into the school library.

Then came the depression of 1929, when the enrollment fell below 100. There was room again in the "auditorium" for the chapel, and so the library was moved to the second floor. From 1931 to 1938 this chapel served the faculty and students. Then in 1938 it became the "Church" of the new Our Lady of the Pillar parish. It served this threefold purpose—chapel for Brothers, students (for many years there was one Mass for the boarders and another for the day students), parishioners — until 1957, when the Pillar Church was finished.

While the school was being remodeled in 1957-1958, the room was temporarily used as a storehouse for building materials.

And finally, in 1958 it was put to the use it was originally intended for. As an auditorium, it is really a new room: there is a beautiful cardinal-red velvet curtain given by the Mothers' Club; acoustic tile has been put in the ceiling; new fluorescent fixtures have been installed; a grey secondary curtain blends well with the powder-blue walls; an amplifying system, given by the Senior Class of 1958, has been installed by Bro. Eugene Meyer. Now there are prospects of a permanently installed and enclosed 35 mm. movie projector and a beaded screen in the rear of the stage. Meanwhile, with its fine organ and piano, the room remains something of a secondary music room. Eventually various materials, now stored in the library, will be brought down to make the auditorium a splendid audio-visual classroom.

The first official use of the room as an auditorium was for the eighth grade graduation ceremonies of last May. Since then it has been used for displaying various classroom projects and some personal hobbies. This month it was used for the Sodalists and the Alumni Days of Recollection and for the Mothers' Club meeting.

It is a room to be proud of. an auditorium we should be proud to be inaugurating and profiting from.

Spring Styles Grace C.C. Gym As Mothers Present Alumni Show

"Your Future is Fashion" was the theme on the evening of Thursday, March 12, an Friday, March 13, as the Mothers' Club of Chaminade held its annual spring fashion show in the school gymnasium. The gymnasium was arrayed in many beautiful floral designs, under the supervision of Mrs. Edward Speckart, decorating chairman.

Nancy Koke of City House, escorted by Emert Wyss.

The beautiful clothes featured were compliments of Vandervoort's.

Music to model by was provided by the Chaminade Band, under the able direction of Mr. Kenneth Schiebal, music director.

General chairman of the show was Mrs. J. A. Grady. Mrs. Grady's able assistant was Mrs. James H. Wehner, co-chairman.

Matron models included the following ladies: Mrs. William Bland, Mrs. Louis Budke, Mrs. James Crowe, Mrs. Donald Dalton, Mrs. Vernon A. Fischer, Mrs. John Fitzwilliam, Mrs. Devereaux Gearhart, Mrs. Walter Gray, Mrs. Thomas Gipson, Mrs. Daniel Green, Mrs. Edward Hanley, Mrs. Charles L. Hartenbach, Mrs. Charles Nolan, Mrs. Bernard J. Povich, Mrs. Robert Sanders, Mrs. Joseph Johnson, Mrs. Carl King, Mrs. John Lough, Mrs. Robert Shaefer, Mrs. Russell Smith, Mrs. Clarence Welch, Mrs. George W. Wilhelm, Mrs. John Wilsdon, and Mrs. Donald Wolken.

Junior models were selected by the officers and senior representatives of the Student Council. Junior models and their escorts were Judy Veith of City House, escorted by Bob Hellrung, president of the Student Council; Alice Mortland of City House, escorted by Juan Perez, vice-president of the Student Council; Nancy Koke of City House, escorted by Marty Dennis, secretary of the Student Council; Mari Jo Berard of Nerinx Hall, escorted by Jack Sanders, treasurer of the Student Council; Dinnie Bader of Webster High, escorted by Richard Kuzmich, Student Council rep., Sen. A; Donna Brinkman of Ferguson High, escorted by Kemper Coffelt, Student Council rep., Sen. B.

Also featured this year for the first time were the sensational Riverton Dancers, under the direction of Elizabeth Schneider.

YEARBOOK IN READINESS

The hustling and bustling on the fourth floor has come to an end. For the past seven months, six people known as the yearbook staff, have been collaborating to be able to present Chaminade with a yearbook. After the fine work turned out last year by editor Lloyd Klinedinst and that well-known moderator, Brother Frank Klapp, this year's staff has plans for an even better book. Brother W. Nance, who has taken over the moderator seat, happens to be moderator for the C&W school paper and a junior teacher in various subjects. Senior Jack Sanders, the editor, a versatile figure at Chaminade, has, since early in August, planned for this year's book. The co-editors, Mike McCarthy and Gary Lombardo (Mike, by the way, will be next year's senior editor), also started working in August helping with the book. The staff also has taken on two new aspirants, sophomores Bill Bland and Larry Fikes, who will be future editors.

Sodalists Convene

St. Louis U. High School was filled with 380 sodalists from St. Louis, St. Louis County, neighboring Illinois towns, and even as far as Kansas City. All were there with one idea in mind—how to make their own sodalities better.

To accomplish their mission, all had answered St. Louis U. High's invitation to attend a Sodality Fundamentals Day. This day was co-sponsored by the St. Louis High School Sodality Union.

The day opened a little after nine o'clock on the morning of March 8. At this time the sodalists assembled in SLUH's gym, where they were warned by Father Langlinais that they would not enjoy the day, rather that they would have to work to pick up the ideas which they would be taught. Then Father Gallagher, director of Sodalities for the Archdiocese, told the sodalists that their moderators should be villains—in order that the duties of the Sodality are fulfilled. Father Reinert then introduced the teachers.

From there the students went to various classes, the most popular proving to be the course on Leadership, taught by Mr. Conway. Other courses dealing with the Sodality were offered, and these too proved to be very interesting.

After lunch, a panel discussion and an assembly, the 380 sodalists were agreed that they had accomplished their mission—betterment of their own sodality.

CARNIVAL COMES TO CAMPUS

Once again carnival music will be heard on the Chaminade campus. On April 18, 1959, from 1:00 to 5:00 in the afternoon, the Student Council will sponsor the second annual student carnival. Each homeroom will sponsor a booth, these booths containing various games of skill. Naturally, prizes will be awarded to the winners. The prizes will be paid for by the Student Council.

The aim in putting on the carnival is not to make money, but rather to provide a day of enjoyment for all. Everyone realizes that a student's wallet rarely contains much, and for this reason the prices will not exceed 15c. After the festivities in the afternoon, everyone is invited to an informal dance which will begin around 7:30 or 8:00 p.m. The Student Council will pay for the band (name to be announced later), but all proceeds will go to the juniors for a better Junior-Senior Prom in May.

The carnival last year was a tremendous affair, but this year's promises to go one step further. All in all, the day should be a most enjoyable one. See you there???

SCHOLARSHIP WINNERS

JUNIORS FACE GRUELING TEST

The National Merit Scholarship Test, so designed as to be of guidance value to all participants, will be administered on April 28, 1959 or May 2, 1959. Only students of unusual ability and accomplishment will be allowed to participate in the test. The results will be reported to high schools in August, prior to the beginning of the student's senior year, allowing the respective schools to make full use of the guidance values of the test. The value to the individual student is that by knowing his status among "typical" students of his own grade level, he can see where his major areas of strength and weakness lie. In the case of weakness, he has an entire year ahead in which to investigate the causes and to improve upon his knowledge. Strengths heretofore unrecognized by the student are often revealed, providing the motivation to pursue further study.

Through the use of a second profile, that of the National Merit candidates, students are enabled to compare their performance with all those who took the test and who are competing for National Merit Scholarships. Traditionally, this has been a more select group than the "typical" junior group across the nation. Students can see realistically, in an objective

At The Crux Of History

This was the climax, the final act of His life on earth. In a moment, total relief would come to end this almost unbearable pain. Out of the corner of His eye, which was almost blinded with blood, He could see a blurry picture. The soldier who had won His tunic was strutting proudly away from the others as they looked on with envy, and cursed their rotten luck. How foolish, He thought. The things of this world are as nothing, if compared to those of the next.

He then cried out with the last bit of strength He could muster, "Father, into Thy hands I commend My spirit." A final shudder of pain swept over His body. His head fell upon his chest and His whole body sagged. The nails, which now bore the sole support of the weight of His body, lengthened the gashes in His hands. God was dead.

Chaminade Concert Band Presents Annual Tribute

The Chaminade Concert Band, which appeared two nights at the recent Fashion Show, will present its Annual Tribute to Mothers on May 3. This will be the tenth anniversary of the mothers' concert.

Highlight of the program will be "The Flight of the Bumble Bee," an arrangement by Harry James, featuring Dennis Matteuzzi. Also included are: "Victory At Sea," "Them Basses," in which the four tubas are featured, and "Bambuco," for the Latin flavor.

The Band, which has fifty-six members, is also planning a Pop Concert to be held at St. Joseph's Academy.

analysis, not only what their scholarship chances are likely to be, but how they stand up against students who will, in most cases, become college competition.

QUIET! MEN AT WORK!

Members of Chaminade's Radio Club work industriously on their projects. The members, under the direction of Brother Eugene Meyer, have ambition of becoming amateur radio operators. The radios, which are shown in various states of completion, are but a small stepping stone to the license.

Students Do Balloon Gazing

On Saturday, September 28, the Bennett Balloon Race caused quite a stir at Chaminade. Most of the contestants drifted out towards the college and the resident students, spending the week-end at Chaminade, raced about to get vantage points in order to identify some of the balloons.

The laboratory was resorted to for the theodolite and the fortunate ones to look through it obtained a very clear view. Those grouped around the surveying instrument identified seven of the nine contestants. The clearest view of all was that of the pilot balloon which drifted quite close to the Chaminade campus. An interesting closeup was that of an airplane from Scott Field flying close to the pilot.

Other groups of boys gathered at strategic points with telescopes but the latter proved harder to handle. Watching the balloons proved a very interesting diversion. Its only evil effect was a few stiff necks on the following morning.

The above items of current interest are taken from the 1930 CARDINAL AND WHITE.

Chaminade Gets Hup Truck

In the first week of November, a new blue sport model truck was delivered at the school.

It is equipped with seats on each side of the interior and is a great improvement in the transportation facilities of the college.

The truck is of the three-fourth ton type of delivery body, with chromium plating on lights and all exposed metal parts. Some other outstanding features are cowl lights on the fenders, a spare time on the left hand side, natural wood wheels and four wheel brakes. Altogether, this new addition to the "Chaminade Fleet" as one wag put it, has remarkable features and body lines.

The "Old Hup" was placed at the disposition of Maryhurst Normal.

DID YOU KEEP YOUR LENTEN RESOLUTION?

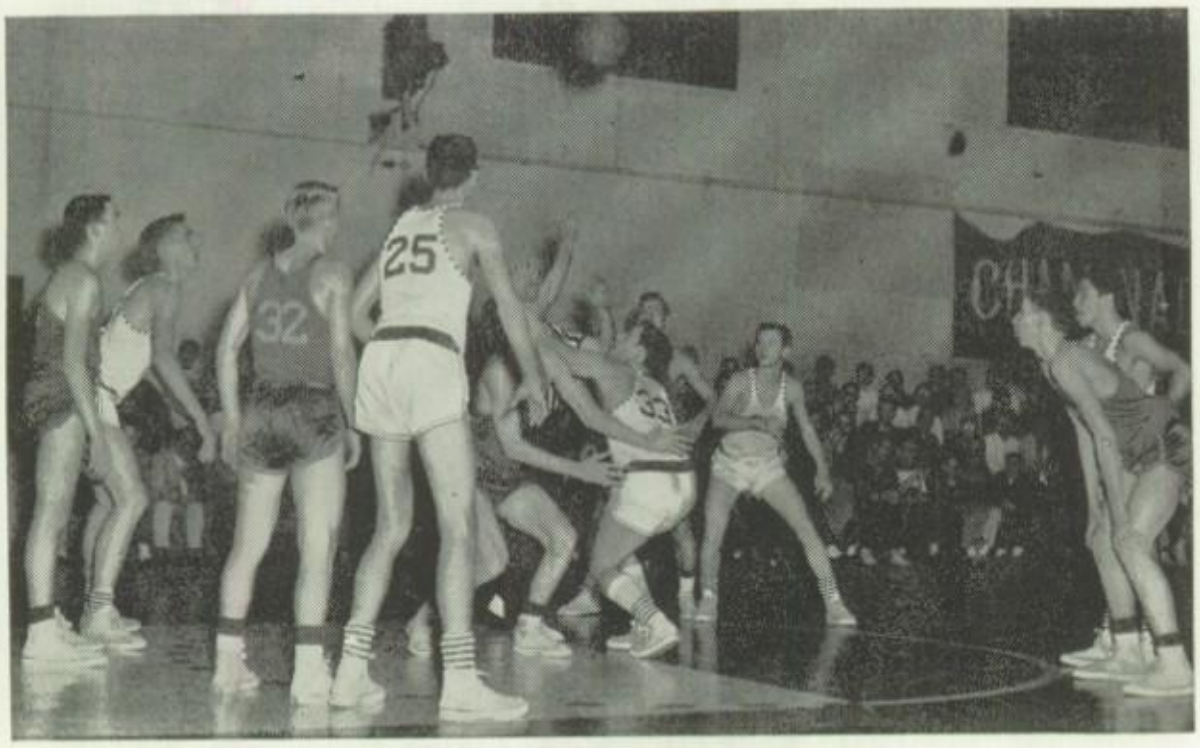
FLYERS SET SCHOOL MARK: 23-7



CHAMINADE FIVE TENSE FOR JUMP.

This year the Chaminade Flyers finish the season with a 23-7 record. This has been the greatest number of victories ever compiled in one season by a Chaminade varsity. The team's high score of the season was a 90-point splurge against St. Francis Borgia.

The team picked up five trophies. The Flyers took third place in the Borgia Tourney, beating Montgomery after losing a heartbreaker to DuBourg in the semi-finals. They also tied with the hosts for first place at the Maplewood Tournament for most points scored. Then at De Andreis, the Flyers lost to McBride in the finals and had to settle for second place. They also were co-champs of the Catholic League along with the Cathedral team. In the state regionals, Chaminade beat Country Day, but then lost to a fast Washington team, and later defeated St. Francis Borgia for third place.

The two most striking victories were over C.B.C., new state champion, and Cathedral, who had won forty-three consecutive victories in the Catholic League. We accomplished these two victories in our own gym, in which we were defeated but once, by Mercy. During the season we beat Marquette and St. Francis de Sales three times, twice in league play and once in a tourney.

As far as statistics go, the high point men were Skip Viragh with 12.8 points per game, and Bob Bitter scoring 12.6 points per game. Our leading rebounder was Ron Meier with 187. Juan Perez led the team in assists, totaling 101.

This year the team accomplished a feat which will be hard to match. All five first stringers received some distinction in the Catholic League on the All-Star Teams. Ron Meier, Bob Bitter, and Skip Viragh were placed on the first team; Juan Perez was put on the second team, and Donny Carmody received honorable mention.

Something which should be mentioned is that Skip Viragh was chosen as Prep Player of the Week on Jan. 16.

But none of this is possible without someone to show these "men" just what to do. In all columns and speeches it is stated that not enough can be said about some great respected person. You couldn't write one hundred pages on Bro. Raymond Davenport and include everything. This man is respected by everyone for what he stands for and what he tries to teach his boys—good, clean basketball. As a coach of the varsity, he has achieved superb 17-7 and 23-7 records. Even as a freshman coach he racked up a 21-3 season. The best of luck to you, Bro. Ray, in the future, and we know you will provide the Chaminade fans with much to cheer about always.

LETTERMEN SPARK C. C. NINE

The future, for a successful baseball season, shines bright as many veterans return to the line-up. In the infield we see Kemper Coffelt at first base for his fourth varsity season, Don Carmody at short, and Lou Gallipeau at third. In the outfield, Roberts, Perez, and Saguto return. Saguto may also see service behind the plate, as he did last year. Charlie Nolan, who didn't see much action last year because of an ankle injury, may be called upon to catch. John Owens and Doug Villars are back from last year's starting mound corps.

The first game of the season is scheduled for April 1. The Flyers have a good chance to capture the Catholic League crown, but will have stiff competition from last year's champs, Cathedral.

Congratulations,

SKIP VIRAGH!

Preps Eye St. Vincent's Tourney Title

The 1959 Preps are not far from completing another fine season, as their statistics indicate. The season's record thus far is 14-6. This, added to winning Prep teams of past years, will mark a winning streak unbroken since 1948.

In their most recent games, the Preps whitewashed Priory 33-9, and nipped Our Lady of the Universe by the narrow margin of 16-13.

The Saint Vincent's tournament is just around the corner and as usual the team is enviously eyeing the first place trophy. The Preps have done well thus far in tournament play, capturing the second place trophy in the Chaminade tournament.

SOPHOMORE "C" WINS BANNER

The Spirit Banner for the 1958-59 basketball season was passed around several times before it was finally won by "Sophomore C." Although "Senior A" and "Junior B" more or less dominated it in the beginning of the season, "Sophomore C" came through strong at the closing of the season to nose out "Senior A" by a mere fraction of a point.

SPORTSMANSHIP

Basketball fans are a very funny group. Some schools constantly shower the refs with boos and other uncalled-for remarks. Still others accept these calls in stride, even though they think the call's wrong. We have encountered both types of rooters in our season this year. There are some fans to be classified as rabid fans and the remaining as spectators. Rabid fans are those who are possessed with a great amount of school spirit and are not afraid to voice their opinions. The spectators merely sit and take in all the action, while not being upset in one way or another. Both types have school spirit, but one has a greater sense of pride. And where do the Chaminade fans fall? As rabid specators, rooters who are proud of their team, but have enough sense not to boo when a decision goes against them.

Hats off to the six cheerleaders, Bob Hellrung, Jack Sanders, Roger Shepack, Marty Dennis, Earl Gallipeau, and Rich Kuzmich. They have played more than an active part in trying to promote sportsmanship during our basketball games. There are always a few rabid spectators who need calming down, and here is where they come in. They have shown a fine example of our true Chaminade sportsmanship.

Hulshof, Kuhn, Sebacher, Van Uum, and Murphy seem to be enjoying track practice. Bro. Boshert's stars promise to give opponents a hard time this year.

IMPROVEMENTS MARK NEW YEAR

The interior of the gym, formerly rather gloomy, has taken on a bright and beautiful new look, due to the generosity of the Fathers' Club. The main purpose of painting the gym was to beautify it for the Fashion Show. Although the painting is finished, we would like to keep it as clean as it is now.

The track, which stayed in pretty fair condition over the summer and winter months, is being worked on at the present time.

The baseball diamond, which has taken a beating since last year, is being fixed up with great speed. With most of the erosion filled in and much thicker sod on the outfield, the diamond should be much "faster" than last year. The backstop, which was blown down by the winds, is also being re-erected.

C.B.C. TAKES STATE

On March 14, C.B.C. defeated Joplin 75 to 63 to capture the Missouri Class L State Championship. The night before, the Cadets trounced the S.L.U.H. Junior Bills to advance to the finals. The Junior Bills then edged St. Charles 60 to 50 to take third place. C.B.C. winds up the season with a 27 and 4 record, one of the four losses being the 11 point Flyer victory on January 16.

CURRENT SCREEN NEWS

"The Inn of the Sixth Happiness" will be a special treat for those who like spectacle, fine acting, and Ingrid Bergman. This picture is a moving account of the career of a courageous and dedicated woman, Gladys Aylward, an English servant girl who became a missionary. Miss Bergman's intense screen personality is something well worth going to see. She was the perfect choice for the role of Gladys Aylward, whose life in China in the 1930's was one of adventure, heroism, sacrifice, and romance. Her "romance," an officer of the Chinese army, is played effectively by famous German actor, Curt Jurgens. The late Robert Donat is superb as a Chinese mandarin, who also falls in love with the compelling young missionary.

The "Sixth Happiness" in the title is explained as "that one which each of us must find in his own heart." Gladys' sixth happiness seems to have been bringing happiness to others.

JUNIOR RING DANCE SET FOR APRIL 3

An innovation at Chaminade this year will be a Junior Ring Dance to be held Friday, April 3, in the Chaminade Gymnasium. During the course of the evening a ceremony will take place. This ceremony will be for the purpose of distributing the Chaminade Class Rings to members of the Junior Class.
